Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. President, Mr. Sproul, and gentlemen of the Senate, if you think this is an easy task on my part you are somewhat mistaken. It is the most pleasant and agreeable incident, however, in my life. I hope that I will not worry you. I shall not, if I know it, with any extended remarks. I thank you for the very pleasant and complimentary way, Senator Sproul, in which you have presented this very beautiful gift on behalf of the Senate. There is a little town on the map of Southern Pennsylvania, nestled near the foothills of the Alleghenies, on the great highway between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, over which many of you doubtless pass. This town is not troubled with any of the great problems that confront the large municipalities of the Commonwealth. Some one passed through that town not long ago, who had been a resident of one of the large municipalities and he witnessed the simple life and the quiet manner in which the people lived, and he said he would not be dead in that town. He forgot, however, that there are some pleople who would rather be first in their little Iberian town than second in old Rome. Chauncey M. Depew recently said, on the occasion of the banquet on the eighty-first anniversary of his birth, that there were three men who were the authors of all the legislation regulating big business in this country passed at the last session who hailed from communities whose peaceful and primitive slumbers had never been disturbed by factories, and the joint population of whose towns did not exceed twenty thousand. So I say, my friends, that we can no more despise the small, rural communities of this great Commonwealth, than we can the day of small things. This town, too, has historic memories. The name of Braddock, Washington and of Ford are linked with achievement there in colonial times. It was called Fort Bedford in the early days. To-day it is plain Bedford. It is my home, and there the latch string is out to all around me in your going through on that great highway and there I should be honored to extend to you in my humble way the hospitality of my home in recognition of your kindness here to-day. I regret that I was not obliged to be present at the inauguration of my honored successor, because we were born in the same county. We hail from the richest county in productive capacity in the soil of any in the Union, and first in a bloody revolt against the execution of the fugitive slave law. We were born in the midst of great men and we felt their influence. Within sight of us, almost, was the birthplace of Robert Fulton and General John F. Reynolds, and whilst James Buchanan and Thaddeus Stevens were not born there, yet during their residence there they achieved their greatest fame and they have been followed by a long roll of illustrious people, and to that role has recently been added the name of the Chief Justice of this Commonwealth, and I doubt not that the name of your honored President will follow. Now, my friends, I read some time ago that all things that we accomplished in the world are the realization and the embodiment of the thoughts that dwell in the great men who have been sent into the world. The great men who sat in the executive chair, have proved the truth of this through the development of our staute law whereby the Commonwealth has grown in population immensly and her people have been blessed with prosperity, and I can say this, my friends, because of some knowledge that I have in respect to public affairs in this Commonwealth covering nearly forty years. I was privileged shortly after reaching my majority to sit as a member of the lower House the last session under the old Constitution, and the first session under the new, and to be a member of the committee on Constitutional Reform which reported the legislation which put that instrument into operation. I recall the names of many noted men who were then present in this body. There was Butler B. Strang, who was the Speaker of the Senate. General Harry White, of Indiana, who divided his time between the Senate and the Constitutional Convention as a member of both. There was William H. Playford, of Fayette, Andrew H. Dill, of Union, William A. Wallace, of Clearfield, and Alexander K. McClure, then of Philadelphia. My friends, they were giants in their days. They would have adorned the legislative body of any State in the Union, or even in the National Congress, but they were no greater than the men that I have seen around me here. They are their peers in every respect, in statesmenship and in patriotic devotion to the interests of this Commonwealth. Looking back over twenty years of service in public life, there is no brighter spot in it to me on which my memory can rest than the four years I have passed here with you, and now, my friends, in conclusion, what shall I say concerning this beautiful gift. Words almost fail me. Let me illustrate if I can. We are told that it was the custom among the Norsemen in the early days when the host of the banquet proposed the toast of health, nappiness and long life to an honored guest, they all rose and drank to the heel-taps of generous wine, and simultaneously dashed their glasses against the wall. It was a sentiment kindred to that of the Jewish wedding that having once been used in one loving cause, it should not be employed for another, but in this instance, my friends, I maintain that the preservation of that beautiful testimonial rather than its destruction bespeaks a deeper and a holier sentiment. These souveniers are not for a day but for all time, and taking the place among the household gifts of my home, they will serve to remind me no less forcibly because there are inaminate that there are those here from whom I am separated, whose work for the glory of the Commonwealth I have witnessed with pride, with whom I shall never under like conditions be again associated; but, believe me, I shall always cherish the high honor of being privileged to preside over this body of patriotic and distinguished men whose many kindnesses and courtesies I shall never forget and whose blessings and good will I trust may follow me in this retirement. I thank you again.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair appreciates the compliment to him by the former Lieutenant-Governor. I am proud, sir, to have my origin in the same county with you, and I am doubly proud, sir, apart from the honor of having succeeded you in the important situation in the affairs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania I now hold, any my aim, sir, shall be to discharge the duties of this position with the same fidelity, with the same efficiency, with the same faithfulness that marked your discharge of the duties of this place when you held it.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. McNICHOL presented the report of the Committee of Conference appointed to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to Senate Bill No. 978, entitled:

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from Committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. VARE, from the Committee on Municipal Affairs, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 415 (House Bill No. 484), entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seven entitled "An Act creating an art jury for cities of the first class and prescribing its powers and duties"

PRESENTATION OF TESTIMONIAL TO HON. CHARLES H. KLINE.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege, individually and on behalf of this Senate. Since the first Tuesday of January last, the flying days and the hurrying weeks have run rapidly into months, and the closing hours of this legislative session are upon us. Its history is written, it effects are conjectural. From that time until this there have been mingled among our activities the pleasing sounds of harmony and the jarring notes of discord, but all that has passed. We resolve ourselves this morning into a committee of the whole, to take independent action, without the concurrence of the House not subject to the scrutiny of the Legal Deparmtent, and without fear of Executive disapproval though I am sure that each one of these and all of them would join with us in our action if they were invited or needed.

Whenever we have a person among us who stands out among his fellowmen conspicuously in any field of honorable human endeavor for skill of hand, product of the brain, or for work well done, that person deserves a meed of praise and regulation, and that while he is with us and before his life's work is ended. That is preferable to the nevertheless appropriate and well-rounded phrases of memorial services, or the somewhat questionably epitaph that is engraved upon the marble slab. We have one such person among us—the President Pro Tempore of the Senate. It is not necessary to call his name, his name is known throughout the length and breadth of this Commonwealth and over its boundaries, and is as familiar as a household word. We all recall the fact that he served twice as Chairman of the Appropriations Committee. As a friend and counsellor he has always been ready to give his advice freely. I remember that when I first came within these impressive walls, and I was somewhat awed by the presence of the grand and reverend Seantors whom I met here, I sat over yonder on that seat, and I asked him what committee or what committees would be most desirable to be appointed upon, and he told me that he thought that probably if I would get appointed upon the Centennial Committee or upon the Exposition Affairs I would be better satisfied with my work upon these committees than any other. I can see the full value of that advice now, and I do not know how nearly I escaped going to San Francisco.

As a parliamentarian he has piloted us safely through the maze of legislative proceedure, and I might add parenthetically, without and with the aid of the Sergeant-at-Arms, he has piloted us safely. We have all felt the charm of his genial disposition, and depression of spirit vanished in the presence of his wholesome, robust, contagious optimism. As a friend he has ever been loyal and true. Senator Kline, we are speaking to you in the familiar strains of comradeship because you are one of us. As a parliamentarian you are fair and impartial, as a Senatorial associate courteous and gentlemanly, and as a lawmaker you have left the impress of your broad experience upon the statute books of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. These your qualities of heart and intellect have created in our minds an endearing and lasting friendship and regard for you. I know I have but imperfectly expressed that regard; we have in a degree visualized it in that ornamental and companionable gift which has been selected for you. It will ever obey the touch of the master's hand, and it will ever be responsive to your varying moods, be they sad or be they happy, and let us always hope for the latter, and on that score we have no doubt, for we know that it will prove that to the harmony of your nature.

The Senate of 1915 presents this companiable and ornamental tribute to you. Will you kindly accept it and with it the assurance that in the heart of each giver there is an earnest wish that it may afford you pleasure; that you life may be long and honorable; that your future successes may be greater than those of the past, and that as the lengthening years go by the concord of sweet sounds that come from it may ever recall our pleasant associations.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate of Pennsylvania, I was very much impressed indeed by the remarks of the ex-Lieutenant Governor from the borough of Bedford, and I appreciate very much his portrayal of that beautiful little borough lying in the hills of the southern section of our great Commonwealth where peace and harmony reign supreme, but I cannot say so much about the great city from which I come in one respect, because it seems that out in our city the people live on political strife, but aside from that permit me also to pay a tribute to our great city in the western part of the State, which was made famous in the early years of our nation's history. More notable during the great French and Indian war, where one day the Lily of France gave way to the Rose of St. George, the next day the Rose of St. George gave way to the Lily of France, but thank God for the onward march of progress, the Indians voice is now silent. The forests have yielded up their riches and converted them into the beautiful homes which adorn our city; and the earth has yielded up its riches which have been converted into steam which turns with endless energy our great wheels of industry. Today through the prudence and energy of her people, through her wonderful industrial and commercial institutions, and her institutions of science, art, music and the like, has won for her the proud distinction of being the greatest industrial city in the whole world. I, like the ex-Lieutenant Governor, think this is a rather difficult thing to do to answer the beautiful things that have been said about me by my Honorable and esteemed friend from Erie, Henry Clark, for whom I have the highest regard and whom I love.

When I took the Chair as President Pro Tempore of the Senate I said that I fully appreciated the great honor that you men, the members of the Senate of Pennsylvania, had conferred upon me, and that I would be proud to preside over the deliberations of a body such as this, composed of men of brains and intellect, coming from every section of this grand old Commonwealth of ours, representing over seven and a half millions of people, and a state whose thorough and efficient administration of public affairs, also has won for it the proud distinction of being today free of debt. Sometimes I wonder, my friends, whether being free from debt is a great honor and I say "No," when a state such as ours is badly in need of many things that are lacking and which other states have, and I am glad to say that I had the pleasure here of seeing introduced on this floor when I was in the chair the resolution asking again the bonding of this great Commonwealth for $50.000,000 for the building of our roads. When I entered this Senate in 1907, I was accorded the great honor of being made chairman of the Centennial Affairs Committee. I thought it was a great honor at that time, but I soon learned from some of the brighter lights in the Senate that this Committee only met every hundred years. Two years later I was accorded the same honor as Chairman of the Centennial Affairs, and appreciating that honor you can readily realize how glad I was to advise my good friend, Senator Clark, from Erie that if he desired to avoid trials and tribulations which are incident to the Chairmen of the large committees of the Senate of Pennsylvania, that he better request that he become a member of my Committee and unfortunately for Henry and myself there were no bills sent to that Committee, and when there was an opportunity that he and I might get a trip to the Panama-Pacific Exposition the bill was referred to another Committee of greater importance, but through my efforts on that magnificient committee I was accorded the following year the highest honor of this body, outside of the President Pro-Tempore and that is the Chairmanship of the Appropriations Committee. Two years later I was again accorded that great honor and it is a great honor my friends because you have the privilege and honor of going throughout this great broad state of ours where you come into contact with the very best people of the different communities, and above all it is highly pleasant indeed because you know the work that you do in the interest and on behalf of suffering humanity compensates you for all your labors.

When I took the Chair I said that it would be my sole ambition to try to honestly and faithfully perform the duties of that office to the best of my ability and make no distinction whatever in politics, and this I have tried to do, my friends, and if I have erred I regret it very much indeed, words are inadequate to express my keen appreciation for this beautiful present and one of the most pleasant things of all is that it was something that not only I may enjoy but also may be enjoyed by the dearest girl in the world, as well, my wife. It is emblematical to a certain degree, as Senator Clark, said of this session, where peace and harmony have reigned supreme. And, my friends, in conclusion permit me to say that in days to come I assure you that this occasion for which we are assembled here this day, and the love and admiration which I have for the members of this Senate shall always be present.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, If I have the approval of the Senate I think that this ornamental gift might speak to us now.

The PRESIDENT. The immortal Shakespeare has said that "the man that hath no music in himself, nor is not moved with concord of sweet sounds, is fit for treason, strategems and spoils. The motions of his spirit are dull as night and his affections dark as Erebus. Let no such men be trusted." It has been demonstrated on more than one occasion since this session began that every man of the Pennsylvania Senate is a vocalist, and, therefore, has music in his heart. The people of this Commonwealth, therefore, can with full confidence feel that the members of the Senate of Pennsylvania are at all times to be trusted.

SPECIAL ORDER ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

The PRESIDENT. The hour of 11.50 o'clock having arrived, the Senate will now proceed to the special order of business fixed for this time, it being the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 680 (House Bill No. 323), entitled:

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act for the government of cities of the second class" approved the seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred and one (heretofore amended) by abolishing any distinction in assessment between land and the buildings thereon and by further regulating the duties of the assessor

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 680 (House Bill No. 323), entitled:

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act for the government of cities of the second class" approved the seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred and one (heretofore amended) by abolishing any distinction in assessment between land and the buildings thereon and by further regulating the duties of the assessor

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President. If I did not rise in my place to-day and give utterance to my opposition to this nefarious repealing Act which is now before this body for consideration, not only would I be untrue to myself not only would the accusing finger of scorn be pointed at me, not only would I have betrayed by fellow citizens of Pittsburgh, but the very oath of office which was administered to me, and which I have endeavored to keep since the day I became a member of this courteous, dignified body, would be violated. That against this Repealing Act I have fought hard and long there are some among you who know it well. In order that those among you who are not familiar with the history of this Act, in order that they may know the history of it since being introduced into this body, I will place before them the facts. Three hearings have been held, three times have many people traveled back and forth from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg, for many weeks the Committee on Municipal Affairs has refused to place this bill upon the calendar, and even now at this late day it would not be before the Senate for consideration if it were not for the powerful forces who seem to rule over the destinies of this exclusive body, which is supposed to be composed of intelligent, brainy, fair-minded men.

The Act, which those unscrupulous, selfish, self-preserving individuals are here asking you to repeal to-day was passed and placed upon the Statute books of our State during the session of 1913. You have heard that the City of Pittsburgh, by reason of this Act, has lost some two, three or four hundred thousand dollars. That gentlemen is not only not correct, but it is untrue, it is neither fair nor is it right that such an assertion should be made.

If the gentleman from Allegheny does not care to tell the members of the Senate why it was necessary to raise the tax millage in the City of Pittsburgh, then it is my duty to do so, and I will assume the responsibility. There was passed and written upon the statute books of this State in the session of 1911 an act which created what is known as the Small Counsel. There were selected for these positions men who were called business men, who in our City were known for the success with which they handled the concerns which from infancy they forstered until in later years they became numbered among the big business interests in the City of Pittsburgh. These men were expected to handle the affairs of the City of Pittsburgh as they had handled with so much success their various interprises. When they became the City Fathers and took over the business affairs of the City of Pittsburgh, instead of handling the business of the City of Pittsburgh they turned their thoughts into other channels and used the efforts which they should have expended upon the City in the wrong direction. All their energies were turned toward the great American game of politics, and on entering the strange pastures, not understanding, never having been connected with, never having had experience, these great all-wise business men became the tools of a few self-seeking self-preserving, selfish individuals who care not for the City, who have no thought of its interests other than that they like parasites might feed themselves and live upon the blood of the hard-working people who toil in the great manufacturing plants of our City.

I have consistently opposed this repeal of the Graded Tax Act of 1913 since the beginning of this session. I wish to give the Senate my reasons. First, the Act of 1913, I would have the Senators understand, applies only to cities of the second class. Now, what is the Act of 1913? It is simply the giving of a small bonus—a small tax reduction, to the progressive owner of land who helps to build up his community by erecting a house on a vacant lot. Also it may be viewed as a slight penalty inflicted on the land speculator—the owner who holds his land idle waiting for higher values to sell out at a greater profit. This bonus or penalty, whatever you choose to call it, amounts to a gradual reduction of 10 per cent. every three years on buildings until the tax on buildings will amount to only one-half of that on land. If the tax rate of a city on land and buildings amounted to 10 mills in 1913, by the year 1926 if expenditures remained the same the building tax would be about 6 mills, but the increased land tax would not double. At least not in the City of Pittsburgh, because the total land values amounted to nearly double the total valuation of buildings, therefore the land tax increase would amount only to a little more than half the decrease in the building tax. Roughly speaking, the land tax will ultimately amount to less than 13 mills and the building tax to something over 6 mills.

Much nonsense has been uttered by the opponents of this Act of 1913 to the effect that the City was losing $700,000 per year by this tax. The City loses nothing. The only effect of the law is to save about that amount from buildings to land, which is the very purpose of the Act.

Let me figure out the effect of this law in dollars and cents. There are, roughly speaking, four kinds or classes of real estate—namely, residences, business establishments, manufacturies, and vacant land. As to the first, every one will admit the house constituting the man's home is of more value than the land on which it stands. Let us assume a case where the land is worth $1,000 and the house $4,000. 3 mills increase on the land will mean an increased tax on the land of $3.00 per year. 4 mills decrease on the building will amount to $16.00 saved to the owner per year. This householder has a net profit as a result of this law of $13.00 per year. Poorer or richer, all dwelling owners will profit proportionately according to the value of their house and lot, and I think I am fair in saying that 5-6 of all buildings in the city are homes.

Here, then, is the salient fact in the law—it benefits the home owner at the expense of certain other classes. Now, who are the other classes? They are the owners of factories, office buildings and vacant land. How much more will they be compelled to pay than heretofore because of the decrease in the building tax? It must not be assumed that all of these will pay more. Some of them, the ones whose buildings are worth more than their land, will be benefited the same as the home owner. But those whose buildings are worth less than the land, or who have no buildings whatever on their land, will pay more. Now, how much more? Will it impoverish the owner ? Is he without any counter benefit? 3 mills on land worth $1,000 will be $3.00 per year; on $10,000 it will be $30.00; on $100,000 it will be $300.00; and on $1,000,000, $3,000.00. What is the owner's compensation for this increase? Let me cite a few instances. H. C. Frick bought what was known in Pittsburgh as the Cathedral lot in the year 1903 for $1,300,000. It was said to be worth $3,000,000 in 1913. This owner gained $1,700,000 in ten years. Under this law his increased tax would have been on an average of $6,300.00 per year, or $63,000.00 for the ten years. For $63,000.00 outlay the community gave him a profit of $1,700,000. Can he complain?

Let us take a piece of vacant land on Squirrel Hill in the suburbs. I know the owner who bought six acres about twenty years ago for $6,000.00. He holds it now at $100.00 per foot front, about $30,000.00 per acre. Could he not have afforded to pay a few hundred dollars a year more in taxes as against this appreciation in value?

In conclusion I want to consider the case of the manufacturer. I do not hesitate to use the largest industry in Pittsburgh, the Jones Lock & Steel Co. It is said that the assessment of this concern's land is $2,000,000.00, and its buildings only $300,000.00. 3 mills increase on the land would amount to $6,000.00 per year; 4 mills decrease on the buildings would be $1,200.00; a net increase of $4,800.00. The compensation here is of a different nature. In 1911 a law was enacted taking off the tax on machinery entirely. I do not know what the value of their machinery was, but in the gigantic plants $500,000.00 would be a low estimate. 10 mills per year on $500,000.00 is $5,000.00. It is apparent, even in this case, that no hardship has been done.

Taking the case from every view-point the Act of 1913 will work for good if continued. The small number of owners who will pay a little more have other compensations to console them. I, therefore, conscientiously appeal to this body to continue the law in operation, at least until some real harm appears.

If you repeal this Act—the victory is yours, likewise the responsibility, as for me, I return to my native city and my people in the same State that they sent me here—fearless—truthful and sincere in defending the cause of those to whom I am responsible.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, it may seem peculiar to those who are not thoroughly in touch with the great city about which I have heard spoken so beautifully only a few moments ago, that we have here to-day opposing on the one side, and rightly so from his standpoint, Senator Magee and on the other side myself, and rightly so. I think that the Senators appreciate very much indeed the great tribute which my good friend, the Senator, paid to that city a few moments ago. The Senator started out to tell you something about the political strife in the City of Pittsburgh. I stated some time ago that the people of Pittsburgh are not happy unless they have political strife I have always recognized a leader, ever since I entered the great arena of politics. Two years ago I stood upon the floor of this body advocating the measures of my "boss," the then Mayor Magee of the City of Pittsburgh, the man who is supposed to study out the wants and necessities of the people of that great city, and it was my duty, as I thought that time, as a member of this body, to stand here and advocate the measure which he and his statistician and advisory board who sat around him and worked out those principles which are for the best interests of the people of that great city, to stand here and voice his sentiments and his wishes. At that time there came before us for our consideration what is known as the graded tax law that provides ten per cent of the tax rate on buildings shall be deducted every three years until the tax rate on improvements is but fifty per cent. of the land. When that bill was before this body and the body of the lower House it was told to you and to me by the Mayor that this bill was merely an experiment. This bill is known, my friends, as the single tax theory of the late Henry George, and we then through the leadership of our Mayor deemed it expedient to try out this law, notwithstanding the fact, my friends, that there is no city or borough in the whole United States that ever adopted this wonderful measure. The only place in North America where they have this bill is in Vancouver. I am not so well versed, my friends, upon the merits or demerits of this bill, but to-day I stand here before you in the same light exactly as I stood here two years ago, I stand before you now advocating the measure, the repeal of this Act, through the advice and consent of him who controls, is supposed to control the destinies of the people of the City of Pittsburgh at the present time, His Excellency, the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh, who with his statisticians and his advisory board, have come to the conclusion that this bill, which was placed upon the statute books two years ago, is not a benefit but a detriment to the people of the great city which I have the honor partly to represent. I would just like to read to you for a few moments the conclusions of one of the most eminent men on this subject, of the City of Pittsburgh connected with the administration, the Assistant City Solicitor, Charles K. Robinson, who appeared before this body.

First: It appears that the continuance of the law of 1913 for the next ten years will result in the city's revenues being reduced in the aggregate amount of $10,000,000.00, and to make up this sum it will be necessary to increase the millage from year to year. This sum is more than sufficient to pay the entire cost of running the city for a year.

Second: The principle of attempting to make the unimproved property bear an additional share of the burden of taxation and relieve the improved property, operates to make those who have no sources of income carry the burden of taxation, and relieve those who have sources of income.

Such a situation must inevitably result in the confiscation of a large amount of unimproved property by the city or by land speculators, who by reason of the depressed condition of the market, and the forcing of the unimproved properties into an artificial market, would secure the same at a price much below their real values.

Such a situation must inevitably result in disturbing the finances and economic situation in any community and prove disastrous to the best interest of the community.

Third: Taxation at the present time is not so much a charge for the mere operations of the Government as a charge for the performance of certain functions which operate to improve economic, social and living conditions. In other words, the expenditures of the city government are today largely for the interest of the built up and improved sections of the cities rather than for the unimproved. The expenditures for police protection, fire, health, and in fact all of the operations of the city government, except those coming in the Department of Public Works, are almost exclusively for the benefit of the improvements and not for the land. It seems, therefore, fundamental that the beneficiaries of the expenditures of the city operations should bear the burden rather than those who are not the beneficiaries.

Fourth: The advocates of the law of 1913 seem to contend that a man who does not improve his property is a bad man and ought to be punished. Unfortunately for this argument, the owners of most property would only be too glad to improve their properties if the demand for the improvement existed. Where there might be one per cent. of the land owners who wilfully stand in the way of any public improvement by holding back developments, ninety-nine per cent. are only too eager to improve their properties for the purposes of marketing them because their only interest in ownership is to enable them to utilize or dispose of their properties to some one who is desirous of utilizing them.

These questions are determined by the law of supply and demand, and any artificial markets created by an erroneous system of taxation can never result in the improvement of the community beyond the development which the community's demands require.

Fifth: The act operates most unjustly upon a community built up and existing under another conception of the rights of ownership of property. The present act applying as it does to improvements made before the passage of the act, as well as improvements made after the passage of the act, simply operates to shift the burden of taxation from the property which is improved to the maximum to the property which is improved to the minimum. For illustration: It has been calculated by the accountants of the city that a building like the Frick building when the tax of 1913 was in full operation, and the building was paying on fifty per cent. of its value, and the ground on full value, would have its taxes reduced on the present millage about $5,000 a year; whereas, such buildings as the Pittsburgh Life & Trust Co., a six-story building on the corner of Federal Street and Liberty Avenue, and other downtown buildings, which were not skyscrapers, would have their taxes increased.

It is absurd to suggest that the owners of the Pittburgh Life & Trust Co. building have done anything that they should be punished for or that they should be required to pay additional taxes so that the owners of the skyscrapers should be relived of the burden of taxation. In other words, this act will operate to reduce the taxes on the skyscrapers, and put the burden of this taxation on the owner of the downtown properties who has not built a skyscraper, but has improved his property as far as he considered justifiable, or as he might have been able to do. There is no question but that the rents in these buildings have been adjusted to the existing basis of taxation, and the result would be that the owners of skyscrapers would be personally the beneficiaries of this act. Any law which takes the money out of one man's pocket and puts it into another man's pocket must on the face of things be radically wrong.

Sixth: So far as we have been able to find there is at the present time no law similar to this anywhere else in the United States. A plan somewhat similar to this was tried in Houston, Texas, but has been overthrown by the courts. So at the present time the only two cities in the United States which are the subject of this experiment are cities of the second class in the State of Pennsylvania.

Seventh: The moral, natural and logical result of the application of the principle of the act of 1913 is to produce a community in which the ground is improved to the maximum on the minimum amount of ground. In other words, to produced skyscrapers, and houses and tenements without an adequate supply of light and air. It will in addition thereto stop all the natural and normal growth of a great city in the way of expansion of territory, as the outlying, undeveloped territory would never enter a city where it was called upon to carry the burden of taxation, and the developed business section was relieved of the burden of taxation, and the developed business section was relieved of the burden of taxation. Any law which stand in the way of the normal expansion and growth of the city and results in a congestion of buildings, and an elimination of light and air spaces is manifestly detrimental to the community, and to the best interest and welfare of the inhabitants thereof.

That is the explanation of the single tax idea which I have here in the words of the City Solicitor, and also from His Excellency, the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh, whose duty, it is, as I have said before, to learn the wants and necessities of the people, whose duty it is to stand up for the people's rights and to keep as low a tax rate as possible for his people. My good friend, Senator Magee, talked, I believe about the adjoining territory. I desire to call attention to the fact that if the tax is put on unimproved property and taken off unimproved property then how can we ever hope to get in the suburbs and make a greater Pittsburgh. That has been the cry in the Senate for a great many years. Four years ago, my friends, I was one of the men who stood upon this floor asking for a greater Pittsburgh at the behest of my friend, the same man I worked for two years ago and asking the placing of this law upon the statute books. We have sixty-nine boroughs surrounding this great State and which with the city has a population of a million one hundred and eighty thousand, you cannot tell when you get out of the city into the borough or out of the borough into the city If this law is continued on the statute books then we cannot ask the surrounding boroughs to come in and help us make a greater Pittsburgh so that we have a greater standing among the cities of the United States

My friends, in conclusion, permit me to say that I just as honestly and consistently stand before this body deeming it my duty as a citizen and taxpayer of Pittsburgh, to ask you to repeal this bill for the reasons I have just stated and I shall go back home with just as clear a conscience as the Senator from Allegheny, Mr Magee, and I sincerely hope that the members of this body can see their way clear to stand up today and vote for the repeal of this nefarious piece of legislation

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CROW, from the Committee on Corporations, reported as amended, resolution of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION FOR SETTLEMENT OF CASE OF COMMONWEALTH VS. HARMONY SOCIETY.

Whereas At number two hundred seventy-five of June term one thousand nine hundred ten the court of common pleas of Beaver county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania did on the suggestion of the Commonwealth at the relation of the then Attroney General Honorable M. Hampton Todd issue its writ of quo warranto directed to the late religious society known as the Harmony Society Susie C Duss its last elected trustee John S Duss de facto trustee and the said Susie C Duss John S Duss and Franz Gillman individually and did cause said writ to be served on the Beaver County Land Company the Liberty Land Company and the Commonwealth Trust Company of Pittsburgh trustee

And whereas Answers have been filed by several of the said defendant and a replication has been filed by the Commonwealth

And whereas By the said pleadings it appears that it is alleged by the Commonwealth that the said Harmony Society was a religious society organized in the year one thousand eight hundred and five and which acquired property in Beaver county in the years one thousand eight hundred and twenty-four and one thousand eight hundred and twenty-five and at other times thereafter which property was held for religious uses and that said society at different times conveyed its real property to The Union Company the Beaver County Land Company and thousands of different persons and that said real property was situate not only in Beaver county but in Allegheny county Butler county and Warren county and other counties of this Commonwealth that the said The Union Company had conveyed some twenty-five hundred acres of land formerly occupied by said society to the Liberty Land Company in consideration of the delivery of twenty-five hundred Liberty Land Company's Purchase Money mortgage bonds of the par value of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) each that the said society had been dissolved and ceased to exist and that its assets had been in fact illegally distriubted among the members of said society and others and that of right all the property of said society real or personal on its dissolution or ceasing to exist had vested in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

And Whereas It was alleged by certain of the defendants that said society was not a religious society but a trading or business association and did not hold any of its property real or personal for religious or charitable uses or purposes and that its members had at any time the right to dissolve the said society and divide its effects among themselves and that they had so done

And whereas It appears that the pendency of the said litigation directly or indirectly affects or has a tendency to cast a cloud on many titles to real estate in Beaver county and other counties of this Commonwealth wherever said society at any time since one thousand eight hundred and five owned and conveyed real property and said litigation has tendency to embarrass thousands of owners of small homes in mortgaging and conveying the same

And whereas It appears that of the purchase money bonds of said Liberty Land Company issued as aforesaid only ten hundred and seventy-six (1076) remain outstanding the residue having been cancelled or retired and that of the said outstanding bonds one hundred and ninety-two ((192) are owned by innocent third parties at no time members of said society and that except as to sixty-seven (67) of said bonds former members of said society have pledged all of said bonds owned by them to secure certain indebtedness of themselves or of said society aggregating two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000.00) dollars and that the interest coupons on said bonds have not been paid for the past six years

And Whereas It appears that the stock of said Beaver County Land Company is owned by former members of said society except as to some two (2) shares thereof and that said stock has been pledged to secure said indebtedness of two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000.00) dollars or a portion thereof and that said Beaver County Land Company is seized in fee as appears by the recorded instruments of about five (5) acres more or less of land situate in the former village of Economy Pennsylvania now the Borough of Ambridge Beaver county Pennsylvania and also of certain scattered lots located in the City of Beaver Falls and the adjacent territory in Beaver county Pennsylvania the whole of which is real estate of said Beaver County Land Company and assessed in nineteen fifteen for the purpose of local taxation at an amount not exceeding ninety-seven thousand two hundred forty-four ($97,244.00) dollars and that said corporation owes debts exceeding one hundred seventy thousand ($170,000.00) dollars

And Whereas Counsel representing the Commonwealth and the defendants after many conferences and consideration of the matter involved have agreed upon terms of settlement and compromise of said litigation in no wise prejudicing the positions assumed by the defendants in said pleading and not intended by them to recognize or admit any right of the Commonwealth but only to put an end to protracted litigation and quiet title to real and personal property wherever situate that was at any time held by or for said society By said agreement it is proposed to convey in fee simple absolutely to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania those two certain parcels of land both situate in the Fourth Ward of the Borough of Ambridge County of Beaver and Commonwealth aforesaid bounded and described as follows to wit

(1) All that certain parcel commonly known as the "Great House Block" bounded and described as follows to wit

Beginning at the northeast corner of the within-described parcel (said corner being a point formed by the intersection of the south line of Fourteenth Street with the west line of Church Street) thence along the west line of Church Street S. 0° 29′ East three hundred and ninety-seven hundredths (300.97) feet to a point at the corner of Church and Thirteenth Streets thence along the north line of Thirteenth Street S. 88° 54′ west three hundred ninety-eight and eighty-five hundredths (398.85) feet to a point at the corner of Thirteenth Street and Ohioview Avenue thence along the east line of Ohioview Avenue N. 0° 41′ 38″ W. three hundred one and ninety-three hundredths (301.93) feet to a point at the corner of Ohioview Avenue thence along the south line of Fourteenth Street N. 89° 02′ 30″ E. three hundred ninety-nine and nine and ninety-six hundredths (399.96) feet to a point at the place of beginning

(2) All that certain parcel being part of the block commonly known as the "Music Hall" block bounded and described as follows to wit

Beginning at the southwest corner of said block being the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly line of Fourteenth Street with the easterly line of Ohioview Avenue thence by said northerly line of Fourteenth Street N. 89° 02′ 30″ E. four hundred and eighteen hundredths (400.18) feet to a point at corner of Church and Fourteenth Streets thence by Church Street N. 0° 29′ West one hundred eighty-three and seventy-one hundredths (183.71) feet to a point thence S. 89° 06′ 30″ W. four hundred and eighty-eight hundredths (400.88) feet to a point on east line of Ohioview Avenue and thence by Ohioview Avenue S. 0° 41′ 38″ E. one hundred eighty-four and nineteen hundredths (184.19) feet to the place of beginning

And by said agreement it is further proposed to pay to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the sum of fifteen thousand ($15,000.00) dollars cash forthwith upon the conclusion of the proposed settlement and the entry of the judgment and the order or decree hereinafter mentioned and to pay the record costs of said proceeding

And Whereas In the opinion of the Attorney General the Auditor General the State Treasurer and of counsel for the Commonwealth in said litigation it is for the best interest of the Commonwealth both in its corporate capacity and as custodian of the welfare of its citizens that said settlement should be made and that the title to all of said real and personal property that was of said society should be quieted and settled insofar as relates to the said claim of the Commonwealth

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Attorney General and Auditor General and the State Treasurer and they are hereby authorized and empowered to make said settlement and compromise in the name and on behalf of the Commonwealth and to receive for the Commonwealth the deed for said described real property with the reservation of possession as aforesaid as to a portion thereof and to receive for the Commonwealth the said sum of money and thereupon there is hereby released to the said defendants or parties upon which said writ was served and to each and every of them their heirs grantees and assigns all the real and personal property that was of the Harmony Society at any time and not included in the property to be conveyed to the Commonwealth under the terms of such settlement and the said Attorney General Auditor General and State Treasurer are authorized to apply to the court of common pleas of Beaver county to have entered in said litigation such judgment order and decree as will effectually conclude all litigation and forever extinguish any and all title or claim which might or could be asserted by or through the Commonwealth except tax claims if any against all the porperty real or personal of said Society held by the parties to said suit or served with said writ or by any person holding through or under them or said Society

Provided, however, That the settlement hereinabove approved shall not be an expression of legislative intention in any way binding upon the officers of the Commonwealth except as to indicate the minimum amount which in the judgment of the Members of the General Assembly should be taken, accepted or received on behalf of the Commonwealth The minimum amount believed to be substantially in total the equivalent of the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) in cash, and

Provided further, That no settlement shall be agreed upon or become effective until the same has been approved by the Governor of the Commonwealth

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I move that rule 39 be suspended in order to consider at this time the resolution just read.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the House of Representatives with the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

TELEGRAM FROM PRESIDENT AND AMBASSADOR OF ARGENTINA.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair announces that he has received a telegram from the President of the Argentine Republic extending his felicitations to the Pennsylvania General Assembly, and as well the appreciation of his people for the cordial reception given Ambassador Naon on Tuesday of this week. The Senator from Delaware, Mr. Sproul, also has a telegram from Ambassador Naon, which he will read to you at this time.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I would ask before reading this that a full translation of the telegram of the President of Argentina be prepared and spread upon the records of the Senate. As indicating the feeling of the Argentina Ambassador, and only because it relates to a public matter, I would also like to have the contents of this message spread upon the record.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The telegram from the Ambassador was read as follows:

I cannot wait to send you a letter telling you how you have touched my heart by your most recent expression of friendship for my country and myself in your thoughtful and most courteous act in making the motion for sending the message of felicitation to my President. We shall always treasure the memory of the many kindnesses shown to my country by the government of Pennsylvania and its people.

R. S. NAON.

The PRESIDENT. Both telegrams will be made a part of the records.

PRESENTATION OF TESTIMONIAL TO HON. HENRY A. CLARK.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President and members of the Senate. I realize the hour is growing late and the session of the Senate of 1915 is quickly coming to a close, yet I see no time more fitting for the expression of good will and harmony than now. On behalf of the Judiciary General Committee of this Senate, who have honored me in requesting me to present to the Chairman of that Committee a token of their love and affection. I may say, Mr. President, that it is always a good idea not to attempt eloquence when you do not possess it, but only to talk in a matter of fact way. This committee decided probably on something that is a little unusual and that was that we would request the Chairman of the Committee to meet the Speaker and have him accompany him to the City of Philadelphia, the reason being this: They said probably the Senator from Erie could look around and he would see something that he would value that he would like to carry home to his family and to the children. I may say to you, sir, and particularly to the Judiciary General Committee, that when they had that thought it really came as a matter of fact afterwards that that hought blossomed out into a reality. The Senator from Erie, while with me in one of the stores of the City of Philadelphia, turning around and placing his hand gently on the shoulder of his wife, he said: "What would the children at home think of this?" It was a touch of nature and it made me realize that they were right in understanding the character of the Senator from Erie. I want to say to you, sir, in the words of Lew Wallace, that riches may take wings, that comforts may vanish, that hope may wither away, but that love stays with us, because love is God; and I know, sir, the love of God and the love of your fellow members in this Senate is not only confined to this Committee, but from every one of us, goes forth to you to your home in Erie, and we ask you to accept this token which is on the left hand side of the first table, not only for its intrinsic value, but as I have said before, as a token of the love that the Senators of Pennsylvania have for you, Henry A. Clark, of Erie.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, the Committee and fellow Senators. This is different again. A precedent has been set and I have listened with wrapt attention to the beautiful description of that somnolent borough at the foot of the Alleghenies, called Bedford. My attention has been called to that great city of the west, Pittsburgh, with its enshrouded pall of industry, and to carry this out please do not forget that up on the blue waters of the lake there is a city called Erie. It is the greatest fresh water fishing pond in the world. Come up and fish in it and come on Friday. I thought that Senator Daix had almost made a mistake, that as he was saying the kind things that he did I felt that he inadvertently mentioned my name and had some other fellow in his mind. I did go down to Philadelphia. I understood the kindly intent of the members of the Judiciary General Committee and I thought I had participated in their meetings and I had taken some little pride in the fact that I thought I had attended every meeting, but I found that I was mistaken, that there was one meeting, or some proceeding, in which I was not an initiated participant, and I think that they took action without my knowledge. It is but proper that I may say to the members of this Senate without previously having consulted this committee about it, that it was a harmonious committee, more so than any other committee of this Senate, unless, indeed, it may have been the Appropriations Committee.

It is a committee that conceived it to be their duty to obey the organic law of this Commonwealth and they discussed measures and bills that were brought before them upon the merits of the bills and irrespective of the person's name that might be attached. Let me illustrate: An eminent jurist in the western part of the State sent to me a bill drawn up with a great deal of care, as I supposed. It was impersonally considered by this committee. It related to cemeteries and the committee unanimously buried it, and it is there now. Hundreds of bills were referred to this committee, and outside of the appropriation bills I presume that forty or fifty per cent. of all the bills that passed through this legislature passed through this committee. This Committee was efficient, it was intelligent, it was harmonious, and I will also say that it was a majority committee. Now all this about your official actions, but when it comes down to your unofficial actions, I ought to rise and express my appreciation of this gift. I shall never forget your kindness and I shall always cherish this gift of yours. Once a year, members of the Judiciary General Committee, there shall be a festival at my home; these beautiful ornaments that you have given me shall be upon my table, and you are all welcome and invited to be present that you may see and feel and know the great pleasure which these gifts afford to me and my family. From somewhere, Mr. President, I do not know where, from some desultory reading, or perhaps listening to the recitations of others, I have come across a sentiment and it is in these words:

I wonder if ever a rhyme was rung,
But the thoughts surpassed the meter;
I wonder if ever a song was sung,
But the heart of the singer sang sweeter.
I wonder if ever an artist wrought,
In the cold stone until it caught his ardent thought.

This is something that the artist, and the poet and the musician feel and in the same sense I am conscious of the fact that any words that I utter, or that I might utter, in appreciation of your kindness would stammer with a sense of their own inadequacy. I shall accept the gift in the same kindly spirit in which you presented it.

BILLS SIGNED.

The PRESIDENT. (Lieutenant-Governor Frank B. McClain) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both Houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 206, entitled:

An Act to regulate cold storage of certain articles of food and providing penalties for the violations of the provisions of this act

Senate Bill No. 1518, entitled:

An Act to amend section four of article four and sections seventeen, twenty-nine, thirty, thirty-two, thirty-three, thirty-five, thirty-six and thirty-nine of article six, of an act known as "The Public Service Company Law," approved the 26th day of July A. D. 1913 (P. L. 1374), so as to authorize the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to appoint examiners to take testimony and evidence in any locality in the Commonwealth designated by the Commission, and to provide for the taking of appeals from the findings, determinations or orders of the Commission to the Superior Court instead of to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County, vesting in the Superior Court the jurisdiction to hear and determine said appeals which is now vested in said court of common pleas of Dauphin County, the same to be subject to an appeal to the Supreme Court, and so as to make the other necessary changes due to the said subsitution of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania for the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County as the court by which appeals from the findings, determinations and orders of the commission shall be determined.

Senate Bill No. 530, entitled:

An Act to amend sections seven and eleven of an act entitled "An Act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offences in regard to such elections" approved the tenth day of June one thousand eight hundred ninety-three

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT. (Lieutenant-Governor Frank B. McClain) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

PRESENTATION OF TESTIMONIAL TO HON. CLARENCE J. BUCKMAN.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, Senator Buckman: Each session of the Legislature has its light and shade, its surprises and it disappointments, its victories and its defeats. This one, of course, has been no exception to the rule. We recognize that in all large legislative bodies, such as this, it could not be otherwise. Great and conflicting interests, personal, political and financial here clash in legislative procedure and enactment. In no other branch of legislation is there so much of clash and conflict of interest as in the handling of the appropriations for the various departments of the State Government and for the charitable and other institutions receiving State aid. The burden of it all falls upon the Chairmen of its Appropriations Committees, whose duties are most onerous and whose problems are most difficult of solution. To keep the appropriations within the State's revenues, which is the duty of the Legislature, and at the same time satisfy the earnest requests and pleadings of the members thereof, demands both wisdom and patience, and above all, diplomacy.

Senator Buckman, as Chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, you have discharged your duty wisely, patiently and deplomatically, and have measured up to what was expected of you. Both the Senate and the State are indebted to you for your business-like administration of the trust. Therefore, as an expression of the high personal esteem in which you are universally held by your colleagues of the Senate, of the uniform courteous treatment accorded them, and of the high satisfactory manner in which you have discharged your duties, speaking for the Senate, I have the honor and pleasure to present this token, assuring you that with it goes the affectionate regard of your colleagues.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, Senator Crow and fellow Senators, of the Senate of Pennsylvania: I am overwhelmed with feelings of gratification and embarrassment. At the beginning of this legislation session, when I was called upon by the presiding officer to accept and to assume the responsibility of the chairmanship of this Appropriations Committee, I fully realized that I was taking upon my shoulders a burdensome task, and I can assure you that before the session had progressed very far I was positive and certain of that fact. To be, in a measure, responsible for the division among the departments of the State government, among its educational, its charitable and other institutions out of some odd sixty-five millions of dollars is indeed a burden and a responsible task to be placed upon the shoulders of any man, or any group of men. In travelling over the State with my colleagues upon that Appropriations Committee I can assure you that I have had the pleasure of meeting a great many people who are interested in the various charities and other institutions in this State and numbering among them the foremost and prominent citizens of this great Commonwealth. It is true this has been an important session of the Legislature, and I can assure you that I have had my disappointments as well as some of the other members of this Senate, and yet the token which has been given to me by this Senate, measures up to a large degree toward healing some of the sore spots which I have been obliged to receive at the hands of this Legislature. For the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee of this sort to carry out the duties which have been placed upon him without fear or favor is indeed a hard task, and yet, I resolved when I took this responsible position that I would, to my utmost ability, carry out that plan. As to whether I have succeeded or not I am not going to undertake to say, but I leave that to the judgment of the citizens of this Commonwealth. I may have made mistakes, possibly I have, and I have no doubt that I have, for to err is human, but if I have made mistakes they were mistakes of the head and not of the heart. There have been a great many things in connection with the chairmanship of this committee as in the occupancy of a seat in this body that were very unpleasant, and I am reminded of a remark made by one of the colleagues on that committee, one of our new members, who recently said to me that in coming to the Senate of Pennsylvania and travelling with the Appropriations Committee was like a man returning to his college that he had attended in his boyhood days, and indeed it is true to a very large extent. I desire at this time, Mr. President, and I will not detain the Senate very long, for the hour is growing late, to extend to each and every member of this body my heartfelt thanks and gratification at the kind and courteous treatment received at their hands, for I realize that it is indeed hard at times when the pressure is great upon the members from their constituents and the people from their districts to have the appropriations increased, and yet I must say that in every case they have been most kind and courteous and considerate in their treatment of me as chairman of that committee. I wish I could say as much for each and every member of the House. In conclusion let me say to you that I appreciate more than I can tell you the token which you have given me, and in accepting this beautiful chest of silver, I want to say that I will keep it as long as I live, and I hope I may live long to enjoy the sight of it, and that when I am gone, it may be divided among my posterity. I thank you most cordially and hope to see as many of you as can be returned to this Senate at the sessions of 1917.

PRESENTATION OF GAVEL TO HON. CHARLES H. KLINE.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, there is one other pleasant duty that falls to the oldest man in the House, the last twig upon the tree, and that is to present to the retiring presiding officer—that is, the retiring officer elected by the Senate,—with the emblem of authority which he has used during his term. It has been the custom here for a great many years for the Chief Clerk of the Senate to present to the retiring President pro tempore a gavel of authority. Ten years ago,—and that is a long time in the changing events of politics,—I myself received from the then Chief Clerk of the Senate the gavel of authority over this body when I retired from the office which you now hold. Nothing which I have typifies better a distinction than which no other is more highly prized by me, and I am sure in receiving this, Senator Kline, you will have the same feeling. It gives me great pleasure to present to you from Chief Clerk Kephart the gavel of authority of the Senate.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I said sometime ago if the custom which has prevailed from time immemorial would still prevail when I retire from office, that is, the presentation to the retiring officer of the Senate the emblem of authority of the Senate that I would appreciate it more highly than any other gift within the province of the Senate of Pennsylvania. We well know according to our Constitution, and as stated here at the beginning of the session by our Lieutenant-Governor, that under the Constitution we have the Executive, Judicial and Legislative Departments. This is the emblem of the legislative department, or of legislative authority, and I assure you, my friends, that I also, like my good friend, Senator Sproul, appreciate this more than the beautiful piano which you presented to me this day because I deem it the highest honor of any officer in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to preside over the deliberations of this august body.

HOUSE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL NO. 931.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented communication from the House of Representatives, informing the Senate that the House has adopted the report of the Committee of Conference to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to Senate Bill No. 931, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of article four section one of article five and section nine of article twenty-four of an act entitled "An Act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" approved the ninth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven permitting operators managers and superintendents free selection of mine foremen assistant mine foremen and fire bosses and placing mine employes under the supervision and control of the operator

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SPROUL offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

Resolved, That the Senate do now proceed to the election of a President pro tempore and that the Clerks act as tellers.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I am directed by the Caucus of the Republican members of the Senate to place in nomination for the office of President Pro Tempore for the recess ending at the next Legislature, the name of the Senator from Dauphin, Hon. E. E. Beidleman.

Mr CROW. Mr. President, I second the nomination.

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I am directed by the Democratic Caucus and have the honor of presenting the name of the Honorable Henry Wasbers from York for President Pro Tempore during the interim

Mr. DeWITT. Mr. President, I second the nomination.

Mr SPROUL. Mr. President, I move that the nomination be now closed.

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The roll will be called by the Chief Clerk.

The roll was taken as follows:

FOR MR. BEIDLEMAN

| Farley, | Hilton, | Stewart, | |

The PRESIDENT. The Clerks agree in their tally and the result of their ballot is, Mr. Beidleman 38 votes and Mr. Sones 11 votes. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Beidleman, has received the vote of the majority of all the membership of the Senate and is therefore declared elected to the office of President pro tempore and the Chair appoints the Senator from Delaware, Mr. Sproul, the Senator from York, Mr. Wasbers, and the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Daix as a Committee to escort the new President pro tempore to the Chair.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I have the honor to present the newly elected President pro tempore of the Senate, Hon. E. E. Beidleman, of Dauphin County.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE.

The PRESIDENT. The oath of office will be administered to the newly elected President pro tempore by Hon. Samuel J. M. McCarroll, Associate Judge of the twelfth Judicial District.

The oath of office was accordingly administered.

The PRESIDENT. Gentlemen of the Senate, I present to you your President pro tempore, the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Beidleman.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, and fellow senators, I deeply appreciate this honor which you have conferred upon me. It is a distinction to be a member of the Pennsylvania Senate and it is a signal honor, a distinction, to be elected its presiding officer.

Added to my selection there has been a pleasure which comes to few members of the Senate. When I commenced to read law I entered the office of the then the Senator of Pennsylvania from Dauphin county. He was elected by his fellows to the office of President pro tempore and since that time he has been honored by my people to the position of additional Law Judge of the County of Dauphin and it was he who to-day has sworn me that I shall perform impartially and faithfully the duties of my office. This session which is now about to close has had closer companionship, better friendship and stronger good fellowship than any session of the Senate I have ever known. It has been brought about very largely by reason of the impartial manner in which the presiding officers of this Senate have discharged their duties. They have always had the co-operation of the members of this Senate and I ask that same co-operation from you at this time. I will discharge my duties faithfully and impartially and in that I ask your support and I now again thank you for the honor which you have conferred upon me.

HOUSE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL NO. 978.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented communication from the House of Representatives, informing the Senate that the House has adopted the report of the Committee of Conference to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to Senate Bill No. 978, entitled:

An Act fixing the number compensation mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the General Assembly and providing for their election or appointment term of office and manner of filling vacancies

HOUSE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 642.

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives, informing the Senate that the House has adopted the report of the Committee of Conference to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to House Bill No. 642, entitled:

An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Judicial and Legislative Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and fifteen and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and fifteen

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL NO. 642.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the report of the Committee of Conference to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to House Bill No. 642.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The report of the Committee of Conference was read as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL NO. 642.

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 642, entitled "An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Judicial and Legislative Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and fifteen and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and fifteen" respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE.

The PRESIDENT. The happenings of this morning or rather these closing hours of this session suggest to the Chair that before the curtain is wrung down on the session of 1915, the language of the good Iris poet

"Like letters some hand hath invisibly traced
When held to the flame will steal out on the sight.
So many a feeling that long seemed effaced,
The warmth of a moment like this brings to light."

The simple English word "Good-Bye" does not permit any other words because somehow or other it sticks in the throat when it marks the end of a chapter in life, or the parting from many friends at one time. No matter what fate may have in store for you or for me, on the scroll of my memory will be written the names of the men who make up the Senate of 1915 in letters ineffacable, and my heart prayer is that the links of harmony and fraternity which have united us throughout this delightful session may forever remain unbroken in fellowship's golden chain.

This being the day and hour fixed by concurrent resolution for the final adjournment, and the hour of 12 o'clock noon having arrived, I hereby declare the Senate adjournment sine die.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, May 20, 1915.

The House met at 10.00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this joyous happy morning. We thank Thee for the health we enjoy, for the work that has been accomplished by this House. May the work be the seed to be sown yielding a golden harvest of blessings for every man, women and child throughout this great Commonwealth. We ask Thee to bless the Governor of this State; endue him with power and may he realize that he has back of him a united people. We ask Thy blessing upon the Speaker for his success as a presiding officer. May he go home with the consciousness that he has the hearty congratulations of the entire House and of his fellow citizens. We ask Thee to bless every member of this House. We thank Thee for their joyous, happy spirit; for the friendships and fellowships and comradeships that have been formed. May these be tender memories never to be forgotten. Bless every employe in the House and give each one success in life. O God, the solemn thought that impresses us this beautiful morning is that we must separate—some of us never to meet again, but may we be elected in that General Assembly of the first born in Heaven where there shall never be an adjournment. We ask for Christ's sake. Amen.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of 10.30 o'clock A. M. having arrived, the Chair lays before the House the Special Order fixed for that hour.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1825 (Senate No. 1518), entitled:

An Act to amend section four of article four and sections seventeen, twenty-nine, thirty, thirty-two, thirty-three, thirty-five, thirty-six and thirty-nine of article six, of an act known as "The Public Service Company Law", approved the 26th day of July, A. D. 1913 (P. L. 1374), so as to authorize the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to appoint examiners to take testimony and evidence in any locality in the Commonwealth designated by the Commission, and to provide for the taking of appeals from the findings, determinations or orders of the Commission to the Superior Court instead of to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County, vesting in the Superior Court the jurisdiction to hear and determine said appeals which is now vested in said court of common pleas of Dauphin County, the same to be subject to an appeal to the Supreme Court, and so as to make the other necessary changes due to the said substitution of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania for the court of common pleas of Dauphin County as the court by which appeals from the findings, determinations and orders of the commission shall be determined.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill is an amendment to the Public Service Act. It amends the act in two parts, while the amendment covers a number of different sections of the act. What this amendment accomplishes briefly is to nrst enable the Public Service Commission to appoint examiners to take testimony. Under the present act any commissioner or the Commission as a whole could hear the testimony.

While testimony could be taken before any one of the Commissioners the press of business upon the Commission made it impracticable for the various commissioners to travel to different parts of the State to take testimony. The effect of this amendment will be to enable appointees of the Commission, men who may be appointed as the occasion arises, to take the testimony in the various localities. Now inasmuch as a great part of the Commission's work is taken up by litigation between municipalities and public service companies, the effect of this will be to make it of almost inestimable saving to the various municipalities in this State. Before this, in all litigations, when the municipalities had any dispute they were forced to brng sometimes hundreds of witnesses to Harrisburg. I recall in the hearing before the Judiciary General Committee a statement, made by the representative of one municipality in this State, that in litigation between his town and a public service corporation, there had been three hearings; at each hearing there had been something like two hundred witnesses brought down from his town, and it cost the town about three thousand dollars. Now this amendment will save all that money.

The other amendment abolishes that part of the act which required litigants to first appeal to the Dauphin County Court to have the case reviewed before they could go to the higher courts. This was an unnecessary step, involving again considerable expense to the litigants, and of course bringing about great delay. The bill as it will stand, after this amendment has been inserted, will enable the litigants to appeal directly to the Superior Court and thus save the expenses of a trial in the Dauphin County Court as well as the time.

The effect of the entire bill will be for the benefit of all litigants, both public service companies, the small companies in the towns throughout the State and the small boroughs. I cannot see where there can be any well grounded opposition, and what opposition may appear is, probably, only from those who desire to prolong litigation, making it an expensive matter, and a tiresome matter, and in that way hope to tire out their opposers. I hope that every member of this House will vote for this bill, and I may say that the bill is one that has been prepared by the Attorney General with great care, and, I am informed, is satisfactory to the Municipal Home Rule League.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Forster.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Forster, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether there are any provisions in this bill to provide for the payment of the examiners.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, there is no provision specifically in the bill providing for payment of the examiners. However, it would necessarily be the same as any depositions of any examiner appointed for any particular purpose. His charges are subject to the approval of the Court and must be reasonable. In this case the charges of the examiner must, of necessity, be approved by the Commission, and they must be reasonable.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I am very sorry not to be able to agree with my friend from Philadelphia, because we have disagreed so frequently during the session of this House, and I think I have well grounded reasons for disagreeing with him and not supporting his bill. Two years ago, the act creating the Public Service Commission was passed and became a law in the State of Pennsylvania. Almost every phase of that law was, at that time, very carefully considered. Amongst other things that the members of the House did not feel disposed to support was the great number of Commissioners. In other words we were creating a court with seven judges. We realized that some of the most important cases in the whole United States are tried before a court consisting of one judge. Therefore the members of the House felt that it was simply adding a uselss expense to the State to provide a court of seven which, of course, we reckon on in this bill and mention, "any investigation anywhere or hearing which the Commission has power to undertake or hold may be held on or before any one commission." Namely, if the advocates of the citizenship that my friend speaks of, as a matter of economy for one who might wish to make complaint against any public service company, we thought it was wise to provide a court of seven so that they could from time to time sit in different parts of the State and take testimony. I think every one here must agree with me that there is no need of seven men sitting in a court of this character, because in a sense, it is a court of trial. It is not a supreme court. Under the constitution of our State every person has the right to appeal from the Public Utilities Commission to a higher court. Then the Public Utilities Commission is only a court of trial, as our county courts are. It is true that the Superior Court and the Supreme Court are composed of a large number of men which you, of course, already well know, but that is a Court of Appeals. In no Court of Trial in any place in the State of Pennsylvania or in any other State of the Union is there more than one judge sitting generally. It is true there are some counties that have two judges and when they are engaged in cases sometimes they both sit, but, generally, they are trying cases in their respective courts. All of the economy that my friend speaks of as being provided in this amendment, in my judgment, has been provided for in the original act. It has only been in operation two years and this will mean a very considerable expense to the public and to the State. It also means that these attorneys or deputies that may sit and take evidence will not have the power or the right to rule upon the admissability of evidence. They will simply have to take down whatever is said and a great mass of irrelevant, useless matter will be taken and carried over to Harrisburg at the expense of the State of Pennsylvania. In my judgment, personally, there is no need of this additional expense, it is well provided for in the original act. Now so far as taking the appeals to the Superior or Dauphin County Court I can say this: That during over a year of the existence of the Utility Commission, I am informed by one who is connected with that Commission, that there has been less than twenty appeals taken from the Commission. Therefore, so far as I can see, it is not very material whether it sits in Dauphin County or goes to the Superior Court. Further than that, many of these cases are very trivial, and to my mind, it would be wiser to keep them in one of the lower courts rather than to mar the dignity of the Superior Court listening to trivial matters. These are the reasons why I will not support the bill. Of course, the members of the House will do as they have always done—use their own judgment.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, the bill under consideration is the Public Service Bill. Two years ago in the session of 1913, the general public service act was made a law. Since that itme, it has been discovered that this Act very seriously interferes with the cities, boroughs and townships in the State in taking away from them the right of home rule. A few weeks ago this House passed several acts by a large vote for the purpose of remedying this condition. Those bills went over to the Senate and for some reason were not acted upon in that body. The Attorney General then prepared the Act, which is before you for your consideration this morning, to give some relief to municipal corporations and other persons interested. It does not do very much but it does help some and it is a step in the right direction. As has already been said, it is approved by the Municipal Home Rule League of Pennsylvania. It will mean this: That when a borough or city has some slight matter, for instance, up at Oil City or Erie in which testimony, necessarily, must be taken, that an examiner can be sent there and at very small expense to the parties litigant the testimony can be taken before him and sent down here to Harrisburg without the parties coming here, and in a great many instances it will not be necessary for the attorneys to come here. Now, it will relieve along that line; and another way in which it will help, it provides that instead of the appeal being from the decision of the Public Service Commission to the Dauphin County Court that it shall be taken directly to the Superior Court. The Superior Courts sit in some four or five places in the State which is more convenient to a majority of our people than to sit in the Capitol City in which we now are in. So far as these appeals are concerned it will be more convenient and cheaper to our people. As I said before, it is a step in the right direction. It does not help, in my opinion, as much as we ought to have help at this session, but I do hope that you will give this relief at this session. This bill has passed through the Senate and if it passes here I believe it will become a law.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, when the boroughs and townships have appealed most untiringly to your kind consideration for a bill that will grant some relief from the operation that public corporations especially of such character as water plants, electric light and gas companies, I regret very much that the smaller communities of this great Commonwealth have to enter the arena and fight the greater corporations whose finances are practically adlibitum to the lobbyists who come here and try to defeat a measure which we have cried for ever since these decress have been handed down by this powerful body and in this bill as the gentleman from Allegheny has told you and Mr. McVicar has so well advocated as a trivial relief, it was not what we wanted but it is the best that we can get, if this House in its wisdom sees fit to vote "aye" thereon. In the name of the boroughs and townships of this great Commonwealth I plead with you gentlemen as friends in these closing hours of this session that you grant us this one wish; that you pass this bill and give us that little relief that it will give us, irrespective of what the gentleman from Delaware has told you, and I feel sure that every community in this Commonwealth will feel greatful to you for your kind consideration. I therefore, gentlemen ask you to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. LIPSCHUTZ. Mr. Speaker, as the gentleman from Allegheny has well said, this is a poor man's legislation. The gentleman from Delaware had talked about its dealing with trivial cases. Of course, he said they were trivial and when he had in mind the corporate interests to the effect that each and every litigant is interested the matter is of serious importance to him which perhaps to you or me, viewing the matter may be different and we may say "O well this is of a trivial character" but that is the reason why; the individuals cannot afford to bring witnesses here to Harrisburg for the purpose of taking testimony, because, so far as they are concerned, they have not the means to have these matters investigated, even though they are so small; they don't have the means and they cannot afford the expense of such sums of money. The Judiciary General Committee in this session in the very thing that this bill attempts to take care of, have complained of most, that if the Public Service Commission were located here in Harrisburg the small man would not have the opportunity of presenting his side of the issues. Therefore, this is the type of legislation that each and every one of us should favor by voting "aye" when our names are called.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of 11:00 o'clock A. M. having arrived the Chair lays before the House the special Order fixed for that hour.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1688 (Senate Bill No. 206), as follows:

An Act to regulate cold storage of certain articles of food and providing penalties for the violations of the provisions of this act

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That for the purpose of this act "cold storage" shall mean the storage or keeping of articles of food at or below a temperature above zero of forty degrees Fahrenheit in a cold storage warehouse "cold storage warehouse" shall mean any place artificially cooled to or below a temperature above zero of forty degrees Fahrenheit in which articles of food are placed and held for sixty days or more "articles of food" shall mean fresh meat and fresh meat products and all fresh food fish game poultry eggs and butter

Section 2 No person firm or corporation shall maintain or operate a cold storage warehouse without a license so to do issued by the Dairy and Food Commissioner Any person firm or corporation desiring such a license shall make written application to the Dairy and Food Commissioner for that purpose stating the location of the warehouse The Dairy and Food Commissioner thereupon shall cause an examination to be made of said warehouse and if it be found by him to be in a proper sanitary condition and otherwise properly equipped for its intended use he shall issue a license authorizing the applicant to operate the same as a cold storage warehouse during one year. The license shall be issued upon payment by the applicant of a license fee of twenty-five dollars to the Treasurer of the State

Section 3 In case any cold storage warehouse or any part thereof shall at any time be deemed by the Dairy and Food Commissioner to be in an unsanitary condition or not properly equipped for its intended use he shall notify the licensee of such condition and upon the failure of the licensee to put such cold storage warehouse in a sanitary condition or to properly equip the same for its intended use within a time to be designated by the Dairy and Food Commissioner he shall revoke such license

Section 4 Every such licensee shall keep accurate records of the articles of food received in and of the articles of food withdrawn from his cold storage warehouse and the Dairy and Food Commissioner shall have free access to such records at any time "And it is further provided that every licensee shall make semi-annual reports to the Dairy and Food Commissioner the period of making such reports to be fixed by the said Dairy and Food Commissioner"

Section 5 The Dairy and Food Commissioner shall inspect and supervise all cold storage warehouses and make such inspection of articles of food therein as he may deem necessary to secure the proper enforcement of this act and he shall have access to all cold storage warehouses at all reasonable times The Dairy and Food Commissioner may appoint such persons as he deems qualified to make any inspection under this act

Section 6 No article of food intended for human consumption shall be placed received or kept in any cold storage warehouse if diseased tainted otherwise unfit for human consumption or in such condition that it will not keep wholesome for human consumption No article of food for use other than for human consumption shall be placed received or kept in any cold storage warehouse unless previously marked in accordance with forms to be prescribed by the Dairy and Food Commissioner in such a way as to indicate plainly the fact that such article of food is not to be sold or used for human food

Section 7 No person firm or corporation shall place receive or keep in any cold storage warehouse in this State articles of food unless the same shall be plainly marked stamped or tagged either upon the container in which they are packed or upon the article of food itself with the month and year when placed therein or in the case of articles of food being stored therein in bulk the month and year of original storage shall be marked upon the doors or walls of the rooms in which the same are stored and when such articles are removed such month and year shall be marked upon the container in which the same shall be removed and no person firm or corporation shall remove or allow to be removed such article of food from any cold storage warehouse unless the same shall be plainly marked stamped or tagged either on the container in which it is enclosed or upon the article of food itself with the month and year of such removal and such marks stamps and tags shall be "prima facie" evidence of such receipt and removal and of the dates thereof All articles of food in any cold storage warehouse at the time this act goes into effect shall before being removed therefrom be plainly marked stamped or tagged with the month and year when this act goes into effect and the date of removal therefrom

Section 8 No person firm or corporation shall hereafter keep or permit to remain in any cold storage warehouse any article of food which has been held in cold storage either within or without the State for a longer aggregate period than twelve months except with the consent of the Dairy and Food Commissioner as hereinafter provided The Dairy and Food Commissioner shall upon application during the twelfth month extend the period of cold storage beyond twelve months for any particular article of food provided the same is found upon examination to be in proper condition for further cold storage The length of time for which such further storage is allowed shall be specified in the order granting the permission A report on each case in which such extension of storage may be permitted including information relating to the reason for the action of the Dairy and Food Commissioner the kinds and amounts of the articles of food for which the storage period was extended and the length of time for which this continuance was granted shall be filed open to public inspection in the office of the Dairy and Food Commissioner and shall be included in his annual report Such extension shall be not more than sixty days a second extension of not more than sixty days may be granted upon a re-examination but the entire extended period shall be not more than one hundred and twenty days in all

Section 9 It shall be unlawful to sell or to offer for sale any article of food which has been held for a period of sixty days or over in cold storage either within or without the State without notifying persons purchasing or intending to purchase the same that it has been so held by the display of a placard plainly and conspicuously marked "Cold Storage Goods" on the bulk mass or articles of food and it shall be unlawful to represent or advertise as fresh any article of food which has been held in cold storage for a period of sixty days or over

Section 10 It shall be unlawful to return to any cold storage warehouse any article of food which has been once released from storage for the purpose of placing it on the market for sale It shall be unlawful to transfer any article of food from one cold storage warehouse to another if such transfer is made for the purpose of avoiding any provision of this act and such transfer shall be unlawful unless all prior stampings markings and taggings upon such article shall remain thereon

Section 11 The Dairy and Food Commissioner may make all necessary rules and regulations to carry this act into effect Such rules and regulations shall be filed in the Commissioner's office and shall not take effect until thirty (30) days after such filing

Section 12 Any person firm or corporation violating any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction be punished for the first offense by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) and for the second or any subsequent offense by a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars ($200.00) or by imprisonment of not more than six months or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court

Section 13 This Act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effect its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it

Section 14 This act may be cited as the Uniform Cold Storage Act

Section 15 All Acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker. this bill has been amended more frequently than any other that has come before this House. It was something that was rich in promise but very slack in performance. When the repealer was going through this House it was promised us that the so-called Uniform Cold Storage Act would take care of all matters. When it came here after all the amendments were inserted in the Senate it excluded eggs altogether from the provisions by reason of the fact that it provided that the temperature in the warehouses should be thirty degrees, and of course eggs are not stored in such low temperature. Then it was amended to thirty-four degrees and then again to forty degrees. Now I am surprised that a gentleman, whose intelligence and knowledge is as wide-spread as that of the gentleman from Delaware county, and which he has displayed on the floor of the House time and time again, did not know more of the subject at the time he took charge of this bill. He was sponsor for the so-called Uniform Cold Storage bill and he told you what it would be, but evidently he did not know his subject or he would not have made these sweeping statements. Then again Mr. Speaker, it was not a uniform cold storage bill—

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, this session has such a short time to run that I think the House ought to maintain perfect order while this debate is being had on this subject. I cannot hear the gentleman from Franklin and I would like very much to hear him.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would request that the House preserve perfect order during this debate.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this was not a uniform cold storage bill because the members of the Commission on Uniform State Laws, which was responsible for the drafting of this bill, stated to the Committee on Judiciary General that this was the first State in which it was introduced. Mr. Speaker, we have heard much of the interests being back of the present bill and that they are in back of this bill. Who conducted the campaign against the present cold storage law? Everybody knows it was the Corn Exchange National Bank. They sent out circulars the first of the session and I believe that they began in December. They talked of the production of the farm, of the corn and oats and wheat and by and by they came to the point and it was cold storage. They asked for a modification of the present law. This Corn Exchange National Bank I learn has a paid up capital of about a million dollars and a surplus of $1,754,000.00, and that is a right good sized bank even where they have big banks, in the city of Philadelphia; and it seems to me Mr. Speaker, that if the interests are identified anywhere in this case it is those who are against the present law. Now, Mr. Speaker, I have taken the trouble to find out a little about the storage of food and the cold storage of eggs and it is set forth by an authority on food products, Dr. Wiley, former chemist of the Department of Agriculture of the United States. These are some of the things that he says:

"The average age of cold storage eggs is probably more than six months. At this time the eggs have acquired a distinctly unpleasant odor and flavor which enables even one who is not an expert to distinguish between them and the fresh article. Such eggs should not be allowed on the market except under their proper designation so that the purchaser may know the character of the product he is getting. There is a determined opposition on the part of those dealing in cold storage eggs against such marking, and opposition which can only be explained by the fact that the amount of deterioration is fully as great as specified. If cold storage eggs have not been kept long enough to develop any of the objectionable conditions mentioned above, and are inferior only in respect of taste and aroma, there seems to be no just reason why they should be forbidden sale. They usually bring a lower price than fresh eggs produced at the time of sale and thus are brought more readily within the means of those who are less able to pay the higher prices."

Now, Mr. Speaker, this bill permits eggs to be kept sixteen months, twelve months by the bill itself without anybody's say so, and four months longer, if the Dairy and Food Commissioner of Pennsylvania gives permission. Now, Mr. Speaker, the importance of this proposition is, that if the eggs are kept there a year it gives an opportunity to the cold storage people to corner the market. And I say, sir, that nobody or no individual in Pennsylvania ought to have the right to say when eggs shall be released because that power is too great to repose in any one man. After all, the arguments against the present law are summed up in this: Because people outside of Pennsylvania have a greater opportunity to impose upon the public in Pennsylvania; therefore, the cold storage men in Pennsylvania ought to have the same opportunity. Another thing, Mr. Speaker, the provisions of the so-called Uniform Cold Storage act which is before this House now for final passage, with reference to outside cases, are not as efficient and are not as drastic against the outside men as are the provisions of the present act. If the Dairy and Food Commissioner wants to enforce the present law he can do so. I might go on and cite to you scientific truths of deterioration, but I am not going to take up the time to do so. We are all men of good common sense and we favor fair play, but this bill is not fair play to the storage men, it is not fair play to the commission merchant and not fair play to the men in the streets who are compelled to buy these goods for their tables. This matter is of such importance that it requires that every safeguard should be thrown around this industry, an industry that we ought not to interfere with. We ought to allow that industry to remain honest, and not give an opportunity to those who store these foods to sell them as fresh foods. I trust, sir, that the House will vote this bill down.

Mr. BARNETT. Mr. Speaker, with a little modification the speech that the gentleman has just made is a very good one, but it ought to have some modification. I do not know what there might be to the source or origin of this cold storage agitation, but I do know what the end is. I have had, I don't know how many letters from business men and others in my district, original letters, not rubber stamp letters, but original letters, showing up this business and desiring a change in the present cold storage law; that it is injurious to them; it is injurious to the farmers; it is injurious to the people and the consumers, the law that is now on the statute books, with some good features, of course.

Now, about the cold storage eggs, and the eggs aged before they are used. Well, now, that depends very much on the egg as well as the storage. If we could just make a law here requiring that our hens shall lay all their best eggs and the most of them in July and August instead of March, April and May, it will settle the whole business, and we will not have any further trouble. It is up to the hen. The hens lay their best eggs, I say, in March and April, and some in May, and the eggs are put in cold storage at that time and are good and sweet and wholesome. Why the farmers' wives without cold storage can do it, but what eggs do they take? They don't take June, and July and August eggs for that purpose. Oh, no! They push them off on the market. They take eggs laid early in the season, February, March and April, and by means of water glass and other processes they can keep them in their own houses, without cold storage,—and the January eggs are good. I can testify to this from experience, and I can get testimony from this floor along that line. Now, I say, that the egg, the good egg, the best eggs, are laid early in the season. Now, I want to say further that the present law has put the good eggs on the market before the time when the people want them. The good eggs, I say, are laid in March, April and May. Now the present law requires them to come out of cold storage about November, but in January, at the holidays and in January the people want the eggs. Now what have they got to do, under our present cold storage law? They have either got to go outside of the State or else get eggs laid in the hot weather—June, July and August—but they never were first-class, and consequently, when the holidays come and January comes they are bad eggs. I say they are bad eggs the day the farmer's wife picked them out of the nest—they are not the same. I live on the border-line between Pennsylvania and Maryland, and the result of this law there is, that our eggs go out of Pennsylvania to Baltimore, and there they are put into cold storage; they get the best, they put up the best, then when the season comes they ship them back to Pennsylvania

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry to take up any more time of this House. This seems to be the last bill on the calendar, but I guess you can be patient for a moment. It has been threshed over so thoroughly here that perhaps anything I can say will not throw any light on the question, but I want to call your attention to two things, and two things only, and I think Mr. Barnett hit the nail on the head in respect to one of them, and that is eggs; and the other point is the howl that has gone up about the bank business in Philadelphia. It seems to me very peculiar that there would be any opposition to this bill after the bill has been so amended that it meets every objection of Mr. Foust, the Dairy and Food Commissioner; yet they howl about public interests. They speak loudly about some interests back of the bill, and it seems that when the farmers, the very producers of the product which is thrown into the cold storage plant, are almost unanimously in favor of this measure, that this interest can be traced into some other portions of the State. We had this same fight last year at the very close of the session. We were obliged to suspend the rules and on almost the very day of adjournment the same old fight was fought out. It has been argued that His Excellency, Governor Brumbaugh, has vetoed the repeal. No doubt he used the reasoning that he was not sure whether this bill would ever reach his hands or not. You will recall, those of you who were in the hearing on cold storage, that some of the very people who came down here and advocated the repeal of the act of 1913 strongly advocated that a bill of this kind should be introduced in this session and known as the uniform cold storage act; and I think Mr. Hendricks, of the City of Erie, allied with the fish industry, was the very gentleman who suggested this act.

Now, this bill, at the very last section, reads: All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed, or something to that effect. I can seen no objection to this bill, and I call the members' attention to the fact that on page one, where it read thirty degrees and where it read thirty-four degrees, it has been amended to read forty degrees. It takes away all objections coming from Mr. Foust's Department. Over on another page has been inserted an amendment concerning prima facie evidence. You will find it on page four. Now, then, if the objections have been met, and there is nothing in this bill, except an argument on eggs and the big interests, it seems to me that they are manifestly eliminated.

Mr. BRUBAUGH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I rise to protest against the passage of this bill. I do not agree with the remarks made by the gentleman from Erie. It was only a short time ago that I was in conference with the Chief of the Food Department, and I am certain, and I can inform this House that it does not take away all the objections raised by that Department, because I have been informed that if eggs are kept in cold storage, at a temperature of thirty degrees, or less, they will spoil, and, therefore, as I get it from the Pure Food Department, it is objectionable as this stands today. There is no crying demand from the consumer for this bill. It is not right as it stands. If this House had time to amend this bill to take away all the objectionable features, then it might satisfactorily be passed by this House, but, under its present form, gentlemen, it deserves defeat today at the hands of the House.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr Speaker, no member of the House regrets more than I do the time that this question has taken during this session, yet the importance of the proposition certainly warrants open, free discussion of either this bill or any other bill dealing with the subject matter. The arguments, pro and con, are and can only be similar to those which were made upon the discussion of the cold storage repealer which was before this House a short time ago. The members of the House who heard that discussion will recall that the arguments advanced in favor of the repealer and the argument upon which the greatest stress was laid was the one which pertained to the rights and privileges under the existing cold storage law which it was alleged belong to those who were engaged in the business outside the State of Pennsylvania. The argument was then advanced that under the existing law those engaged in the cold storage business in other States can ship into Pennsylvania and sell cold storage products which had been in cold storage for a longer period of time than that permitted under the Pennsylvania law; that they could sell those products in Pennsylvania without calling the attention of the consumer or the purchaser to the fact that they were cold storage goods, and that therefore the existing cold storage law operated against the home industries in Pennsylvania. That was the argument advanced for the repeal of that law. The same argument was advanced before the committee of this House which had under consideration that question in favor of the passage of this so-called uniform cold storage law. At the time of the previous argument I called the attention of this House to Section 18, of the existing law, and read to them the provisions therein contained which prohibit the sale or the offering for sale within the State of Pennsylvania of goods which had been kept in cold storage elsewhere for a longer period of time than that permitted by the Pennsylvania law or which had not been marked as required by the Pennsylvania law. The gentleman from Philadelphia, in his argument upon that proposition, thought to convey to the minds of the members of this House that that was ineffective. I challenge the gentleman from Delaware to point to one provision in the bill now under discussion which corrects the wrong that he complained of in the existing cold storage law. I challenge him to point to one provision in the law now under discussion which would prevent, as he claims should be prevented, outside cold storage operators from doing that which he contends they are permitted to do under the existing law. I defy the gentleman from Delaware to point to one provision in the existing law which permits those things to happen.

As I argued to this House before, there were two objects in mind in connection with the enactment of a cold storage law in this State two years ago, and those two things were these: First, that the consuming public had the right to know what they were buying; second, to put a stop to, as much as it is possible to put a stop to under the State enactment, the speculation in food products. I explained to you gentlemen the operations of those engaged in this business prior to the passage of the act of 1913, and I was not contradicted in any particular. I told you gentlemen that at the hearing before the Legislative Committee of Congress when the bill was under discussion there, that they admitted that goods kept in cold storage after the first day of January of the succeeding year were kept for speculative purposes.

Now, gentlemen, here is the danger in the passage of this bill in connection with the speculative feature in food stuffs; here is the bill providing that the time limit on all of these specific products shall be one year, one year from the date that they are placed in storage. Why, that provision in itself is enough to throw down the bars which the act of 1913 placed around the speculation in food products. But they go farther, and they are not satisfied with one year, but they say, no; we want an extention of time, and we want the right given to the Dairy and Food Commissioner to extend this time for a period of sixty days, thereby making it fourteen months.

They are not even satisfied with that but they go further and they say "We want the Dairy and Food Commissioner to give an additional right for a further extension of sixty days, thereby making it a period of sixty days," and they are not satisfied with that but they say "We want to go further." The existing cold storage law requires that the date, the day in which the goods are placed in cold storage, shall be stamped thereon. That means that if the goods come in on the fifteenth of April they shall be stamped the fifteenth day of April and that is the time from the fifteenth of April? O no, they do not want that. They say, they want them stamped by the month and that means this: That if the goods are placed in cold storage on the first of April, they are stamped "April" and while the time actually begins on the first of April, it is good to run up to the last day of April, thereby giving an additional month, making the total of the time that goods shall be kept in cold storage under this proposed legislation seventeen months.

Now, gentlemen, is it not just as plain as the sunlight that if this bill is enacted with these provisions in it, that the restrictions as to speculation are entirely wiped off the cold storage products? Now then, what else does this proposed bill do? This bill provides that when the goods are stored that the bulk shall be marked "Cold Storage Goods." Is there any provision in this bill which, when these goods are placed upon the counter and sold to the consuming public, that the knowledge of the fact that they are cold storage goods and the length of time they have been in cold storage is brought home to that consumer? Not one word. There is a jumble of language in here that the only reasonable construction of which is, that they don't when they place the goods before the consumer, have to so state to the consumer the length of time they have been in there or been actually cold storage goods. Now, gentlemen, I have only one interest in this proposition, although I know that it has been rumored on the floor of this House that the reason why I advocate the existing cold storage law is because I have an ulterior motive; that I represent the packing interests which are located in Chicago. I want to say to you gentlemen, if that rumor has been circulated, that a blacker and a more base lie has never been perpetrated upon any individual in the halls of Legislation. I want to say to you, gentlemen, that my interest in this question was first aroused because prior to the session of 1913 I did represent the packers of Chicago, I know, from my own personal knowledge as their legal representative, of the wrongs which were done in the name of cold storage and I made up my mind that if I came to the legislative halls of Pennsylvania at Harrisburg, I would do all in my power to correct these wrongs and to see that the people of this Commonwealth were given what they were entitled to, and since that time I have lost the clientele of the people in Chicago. My friends argue here that when this question was before the House before that the cold storage interests of Chicago were in favor of the existing bill and that they were against the uniform bill and against the repeal of the existing law. I want to say to you, gentlemen, that no later than two days ago their Harrisburg representatives of these packing interests came to me at my desk here and asked me to withdraw any opposition I had to this so-called uniform law, and I flatly told him that I would not. Now, gentlemen, this is a serious question for us to consider. Are you by the enactment of this law going to deprive the people of this Commonwealth from the only protection along the lines of this industry that is given to them by the Act of 1913? I think that you would make a grievous mistake if you did. It has been stated by the gentleman from Erie that this bill meets all the objections of the Dairy and Food Commissioner. I will read to you a letter I hold in my hand, a statement given to me this morning by the Dairy and Food Commissioner himself on this question, with the instruction and the request that I state to the members of this House that he is absolutely opposed to the enactment of this law and state what his objections are. I will read it to you at this time.

Products, under Section 1, are not cold storage products unless they are kept in cold storage for sixty days. This should be thirty days.

Cold storage products are not required to be labeled as such to the consuming public by the retail dealers, which leaves the bars down and the gate wide open for fraud and deception.

The proposed bill delegates power to the Commissioner to extend the time beyond twelve months. The time limit should be definitely fixed and no power or discretion left to the Dairy and Food Commissioner on this point.

Notwithstanding this my friend from Erie has the temerity to rise in this House and say that this bill has met the objections of the Dairy and Food Commissioner. This is a so-called uniform cold storage law. Uniform; why the name uniform? In the majority of the States of this Union, the Legislatures have been meeting and some have just adjourned, while others are still in session and not one of them, and I have taken the trouble to investigate this matter, in not one of them was this bill offered or introduced except in the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

They think this is a prize bill; this is a fine bill; this is a bill which should have the backing of everybody. If that be so, why should there have been any change in this law from the time it was introduced down to the present time. When it was in the Senate they amended it. They amended, if my recollection serves me correctly, by saying that a cold storage plant instead of being thirty-five or forty degrees, I forget the exact temperature, should be thirty, thereby eliminating from the very object and purpose of the bill any cold storage plant, for the simple reason that they do not put them in a temperature of that kind; because it would be harmful and hurtful to the eggs for salable purposes. Then when it comes over here and this bill is brought out and placed upon the calendar, this grand cold storage law, what does my friend, the gentleman from Delaware, who praises this bill so highly, do; he is not satisfied with this wonderful piece of legislation. He offers amendments to raise cold storage plants to thirty-four degrees, when I am advised by the Dairy and Food Commissioner and those who are familiar with this question that thirty-eight degrees is the degree of temperature of a cold storage plant in which commodities of this kind are kept. So we change that not to thirty-five, not to thirty-six, not to forty, but to thirty-four; why the reason for thirty-four? The reason is plain, for it eliminates, the passage of this bill will eliminate, the very people that it ought to be the object of this Legislature to regulate. Now, gentlemen, I ask you in all seriousness, in all fairness to your constituents, in all fairness to the people of this Commonwealth and the consuming public, the people who pay the price for these goods, that they ought to know something about that for which they are paying, and they ought not to have taken away from them the safeguards which are thrown around them by reason of the existence of the law of 1913.

Mr. WILLIAMS in the Chair.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I just want to remind you that we are about to ring the curtain down, and the session of 1915 will go into history, and this, perhaps, is the last matter that will provoke any controversy during this session. I only wish that I did not have to detain you in the interest of my people, because I have taken so much of your time during this session, but really this is a very, very important question to a very large number of our citizenship.

First, I am going to accept the challenge of my friend from Philadelphia, which, if I can make good in, ought to make him a supporter of this bill. First, he says that this proposition now will wipe away all of the protection calling attention to the absence of much that is contained in the act of 1913. For his benefit, I will ask him to just take the bill, and the power to regulate this proposition within the limits prescribed by this act, is as sweeping as any upon the statute books of Pennsylvania on any subject whatever. Section 11 of this act says the Dairy and Food Commissioner can make all necessary rules and regulations to carry this act into effect and such rules and regulations shall be filed in the Commissioner's office so that the public may know just how these goods shall be marked, just what shall be the temperature of a cooling plant and what shall be the temperature of a cold storage plant. The vice of the law that the business people in this state now have to operate under is so apparent that somebody somewhere had in mind some individuals other than those in the State of Pennsylvania.

Now I have never said a word reflecting upon any member of this body as to whether they were influenced by interests beyond the borders of this State, but the attorneys that have opposed the position that I have assumed have repeatedly declared on the floor of this House that I am that of the cold storage interests. Why I have never paid any notice to it now do I intend to. Those who come from the rural sections of our state and those who come from the business sections of Pennsylvania know that I do not have to answer that question, nor any other man, nor any other member on the floor of this House that undertakes to defend the position that I am defending now. It is strange and it is passing strange that when the Act of 1913 was put upon the statute books that they should be so particular to define what a cold storage plant was, and yet when they come to a cooling room, the only place that the great packing interests put their products, there is no temperature provided for in the act. If they wanted to protect the people of the State of Pennsylvania, why didn't they in the act of 1913 throw some provisions to protect the public?

That act is not of my making, it is of the making of the men who framed this act and the men who were responsible for putting it upon the statute books. They certainly did not give all the time, that my friend from Philadelphia talks about— the act of 1913—to its consideration and then not know what it was. Everybody knows that hearing after hearing was held, before that bill finally reached the House and it was placed upon the Statute books, and those who are defending it must have known what was in that act. Now, let me read it to you—it is not a statement of mine, it is in the statutes of Pennsylvania—how considerate they were, how careful they were to look out for the fellow that did not live in Pennsylvania—" Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the shipping, consigning or transporting fresh food in properly refrigerated cars within the State to points of destination nor when received to prohibit the same from being held in a "cooling room," and then they did not define that cooling room. What is a "cooling room?" Twenty-two of them in the great City of Philadelphia where they store products that come from Kansas City and other cities in this Union and everybody knows the purposes of these cooling rooms. There are in these cooling rooms, temperatures down almost to zero. Now under the provisions of this act the food that went into the cooling rooms was not required to be marked and no precaution taken so far as the public is concerned whatever, when it came to the products that came from out of the State. After they reached Pennsylvania and the Pennsylvania dealer took possession of them he had to put the surplus in a room that the Statute of 1913 carefully provided for and also provided that on the outside of the package or the article they should be a check and mark made and a penalty for taking it off. They took this precaution with the Pennsylvania and then allowed the door wide open beyond the borders of the State—a uniform cold storage a uniform cold storage law. Why, of course we know that it was only a suggestion from the men who were having the subject under consideration, and that it did not become a reality until somebody starts somewhere. He says why didn't the other States start it instead of Pennsylvania? Why didn't he answer it? He would have answered the question, had he known. I will answer it for him. I will tell you why the other States did not do it. They did not do it because the legislatures of the State of California, of the State of Iowa, of the State of Louisanna, of the State of North Dakota, of the State of Massachusetts, of the State of Nebraska and of the State of New Jersey provided in their cold storage law just exactly what is that bill that I ask you to vote for now, namely twelve months.

Why should they need to ask for a uniform cold storage law when they had practically all of the provisions provided in the very suggestion that I am talking about and praying that you will give to the people of Pennsylvania, and I believe you are going to do it, too.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware?

Mr. MILLIRON. No, Mr. Speaker, I thought the gentleman had finished and gone home.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware has the floor.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I will not go home until the gavel falls and this House adjourns sine die. I just give that to my friend Mr. Milliron as a matter of information.

They have tried to make a great deal of capital out of the fact that we are back here for the uniform cold storage law, after having endeavored to the extent of our influence to secure a repeal of the present law. I realize that that remark would not have come from a man of experience. Knowing that my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Wilson, is only serving his second session, I know that he does not have quite sufficient experience yet as a legislator to have learned that neither I, nor he, nor any one of you always get what we believe is right. He has not yet learned that the laws on the statute books of every State in the Union and the laws of every nation of the world are simply, after all, compromises of differences. One has to give and the other has to give. I strove for what I believed, namely, that unless there could be a national cold storage law, it would result as it has resulted in Pennsylvania, namely, that it has only been against the interests of Pennsylvania, and under the law of 1913 it has resulted in the deceiving of our people. And secondly, my reason for now supporting this bill is this: I shaped it as I thought would be satisfactory; I shaped it as I believed would be satisfactory to the Dairy and Food Commissioners of the State of Pennsylvania, as I understood it would be satisfactory. I might have a misunderstanding, and I don't say that it was satisfactory. I am not going to say many things that I would have liked to have said. I am going to say this, my friends, this bill is in the interest of the people of Pennsylvania. It is far better than the statute now on the books. Why, my friend from Franklin said that he had a communication which he believed to be correct, the information that a certain bank in the City of Philadelphia had put out the statement that this law was hurting the people of Pennsylvania. Did he go and inquire as to whether this was true and was born out by the facts? No, no, no. He went and looked up to see how much capital and surplus they had, and when he found that out, he concluded the proposition must be wrong. If such reasoning as that is going to apply to this House, then God save the Commonwealth. Why, where will we get our information? Now I have heard that talk around here, that the people, the citizens of Pennsylvania must not be listened to, that they won't tell the truth, but when a voice comes from the lake City of Chicago, and from Kansas City, it bears the mark of truth; but we here in Pennsylvania, we who are affected and suffering from such laws being on our statute books, we must stand aside and suck our fingers and cry. The voice comes from every section of this State, and every man who will vote "aye" on this bill will never regret it. My friend from Philadelphia ought to vote for it. I thought I had the bill so arranged that it would have his support and the support of everyone. I thought I had reasoned enough with him, but it seems I should have reasoned deeper. I want you to support this bill and give your people relief. You know where the voice comes from. I am the people's spokesman, at least I took it upon myself to tell you the real truth about the matter. Put this bill upon the statute book, as your people want you to do. I trust every man will vote for it.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Coustitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1430 (Senate Bill No. 8), as follows:

An Act supplementary to an act entitled "An Act providing for the incorporation regulation and government of cities of the third class regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto" approved the twenty-seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen providing for and enacting initiative and referendum provisions with reference to ordinances and the holding of elections relative thereto

ARTICLE I

The Initiative

Section 1 Be is enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any proposed ordinance (except as hereinafter mentioned) may be submitted to the council by a petition signed by the electors of any city of the third class of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Upon the written request of one hundred qualified electors directed to the city clerk asking that a petition be prepared he shall prepare such petition within ten days and in the meantime notice shall be given in one of the daily newspapers if one be published in the city and if not then in a weekly newspaper that such petition will be ready for signing at the expiration of ten days from the presentation of said request This notice shall state the purpose for which the petition is made the place where and when it may be signed and ten days shall be allowed for signatures The signing shall be done in the city clerk's office only and the petition shall be retained there at all times during the period of ten days Each signer shall add to his signature his place of residence street and number and shall make oath before the city clerk that he is a qualified elector of the city and resides at the address given At the expiration of the ten days aforesaid and within ten days thereafter the city clerk shall examine such petition and from the voters registered ascertain whether or not said petition is signed by voters equal to twenty per centum of all votes cast for all candidates for mayor at the last preceding municipal election and if necessary the council shall allow him extra help for that purpose and he shall attach to said petition his certificate showing the result of said examination If by the clerk's certificate the petition is shown to contain less than twenty per centum as aforesaid it may be amended within ten days from the date of said certificate The clerk shall within ten days after such amendment make like examination and certification of the amended petition and if his certificate shall show the same to contain less than twenty per centum as aforesaid it shall be returned to the person filing the same without prejudice If the petition shall be certified to contain twenty per centum of said votes cast as aforesaid the clerk shall submit the same to the council without delay If the petition accompanying the proposed ordinance be signed by electors equal in number to twenty per centum of the votes cast for all candidates for mayor at the last preceding municipal election and contains a request that the said ordinance be submitted to a vote of the people if not passed by the council such council shall either

(a) Pass said ordinance without alteration within twenty days except as otherwise provided herein after attachment of the clerk's certificate to the accompanying petition or

(b) Forthwith after the clerk shall attach to the petition accompanying such ordinance his certificate of sufficiency the council shall call a special election unless the general or municipal election is fixed within ninety days thereafter and at such special election if one is so fixed or at the said general or municipal election such ordinance shall be submitted without alteration to the vote of the electors of the said city The ballots used when voting upon said ordinance shall be supplied by council and shall contain the words "For the ordinance", (stating the nature of proposed ordinance) and "Against the ordinance" (stating the nature of proposed ordinance) If the majority of the qualified electors voting on the proposed ordinance shall vote in favor thereof such ordinance shall thereupon become a valid and binding ordinance of said city Any ordinance which under the provisions of Article one (I) or Article two (II) of this act is proposed by petition or which shall be adopted by a vote of the people cannot be repealed or amended within two years except by a vote of the people Any number of proposed ordinances may be voted upon at the same election in accordance with the provisions of this section but there shall not be more than one special election in any period of six months for such purpose The council may submit a proposition for the repeal of any such ordinance or amendments thereto to be voted upon at any succeeding city election and should such proposition so submitted receive a majority of the votes thereon at such election such ordinance shall thereby be repealed or amended accordingly Whenever any ordinance or proposition is required by this act to be submitted to the voters of the city at any election city clerks shall cause such ordinance or proposition to be published once in at least two of the newspapers published in said city and if two newspapers are not published in the city then in two newspapers published in the county such publication to be not less than five nor more than twenty days before the submission of such proposition or ordinance to be voted on

Section 2 That the provisions of the foregoing section shall not apply to or include any ordinance

(a) Relating to any matter subject or thing which is not the subject of a referendum vote as hereinafter provided

(b) To repeal amend or modify any ordinance which had been subject to the provisions of the referendum as hereinafter provided

ARTICLE II

The Referendum

Section 1 No ordinance passed by the council except as hereinafter mentioned shall go into effect before ten (10) days from the time of its final passage and if during the said ten days from the time of its final passage a petition signed by electors of the city equal in number to at least twenty per centum of the entire vote for all candidates for Mayor at the last preceding general municipal election at which a Mayor was elected protesting against the passage of such ordinance be presented to the council the same shall thereupon be suspended from going into operation and it shall be the duty of the council to reconsider such ordinance and if the same is not entirely repealed the council shall submit the ordinance as is provided by sub-section (b) of section one of the preceding article of this act to the vote of the electors of the city either at the general or municipal election or a special municipal election to be called for that purpose and such ordinance shall not go into effect or become operative unless a majority of the qualified electors voting on the same shall vote in favor thereof Upon the written request of one hundred qualified electors directed to the city clerk asking that the petition hereinabove provided for be prepared he shall prepare such petition immediately and thereupon give notice in one of the daily newspapers if one be published in the city and if not then in a weekly newspaper that such petition is ready for signing and the purpose of the petition giving the place where and when it may be signed and the said signing shall be done in the city clerk's office only where it shall be retained during all the period of ten days after the passage of the said ordinance

Each signer shall add to his signature his place of residence street and number and shall make oath before the city clerk that he is a qualified elector of the city and resides at the address given The city clerk shall keep his office open for the purpose signatures to the initiative and referendum petitions from eight o'clock in the forenoon to twelve (noon) and from one o'clock in the afternoon to five o'clock in the afternoon of each day except Sundays and holidays and he shall not permit any person to sign the said petition after five o'clock in the afternoon of the tenth day after the said ordinance has been passed as aforestated and at the expiration of said time the said petition in the hands of the city clerk shall be deemed and taken to be filed with and presented to the council and it shall be the duty of the city clerk to lay the same before the council at its first meeting thereafter After its presentation the city clerk shall ascertain from the voter's registry whether or not said petition is signed by voters equal to twenty per centum of all the votes cast for mayor at the last preceding municipal election and if necessary the council shall allow him extra help for that purpose and after he has made said examination he shall report the result thereof to council

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. HESS asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following motion:

Moved by Mr. Hess, seconded by Mr. Wildman, that the vote by which House Bill No. 1121 (Senate Bill No. 474), File Folio No. 4353, entitled:

An Act authorizing cities to regulate and license certain motor vehicles was dropped from the calendar of third reading bills on Tuesday, May 18th, be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. Hess. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, Senate Bill No. 474 is what is known as the "jitney bill." I positively believe that this Legislature would make a mistake to adjourn without passing some bill that would give municipalities the right to regulate the operation of jitney service. Now this bill is as modest in its requirements and in its provisions as a bill can possibly be drawn and I want to bring it to your attention and show you just how modest it is. Permit me to read it to you. It is only a few lines in length. The entire provisions of this bill are these:

"That each city may regulate the transportation by motor vehicles (not operated on tracks) of passengers or property for pay within the limits of the city or from points in the city to points beyond the limits of the city In such regulation the city may impose reasonable license fees make regulations for the operation of vehicles the rates to be charged for transportation and may designate certain streets upon which such vehicles if operated must be operated."

Now, gentlemen, what is wrong in that bill? It is simply to give to each municipality the right to regulate this service. Now, we all know it is growing tremendously and there certainly should not be any reason why the municipalities should not have the right to regulate as in their wisdom they deem proper that this service should be regulated.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, in my opinion this is a very important measure. I am perfectly satisfied in my own mind that the transportation of the public by motor driven vehicles has come to stay and I believe it should be encouraged. At the same time, gentlemen, I believe that it should be placed under some regulation. The Public Service Commission themselves have admitted that they absolutely have no jurisdiction over the jitney service. Now, gentlemen, in advocating the passage of this measure I am acting contrary to my own interests, being personally interested in a jitney transportation company in Harrisburg, but I believe that it is the duty of a legislator to lay aside his personally interests and look only to the interests of the public at large.

I want to give you an illustration of the need for some regulation. Last Saturday night on my way home a half intoxicated individual sat opposite to me. He became communicative. He told me he had been running a jitney all day and that he had taken in fifteen dollars, and he said, "you know I just learned to run this machine last night and I learned in two hours." I said, "do you own the machine?" he said, "No I bought it on the installment plan and paid twenty-five dollars on it." Now, gentlemen, suppose yourself or one of your relatives or family, your wife or child were injured by this machine, how could any redress ever be obtained from that man who had no experience in operating a machine of this kind? Therefore, gentlemen, I would ask you to support this bill.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I think it is only fair that you should know the other side of this question. Back of this is not the regulation and the care of the travelers but back of this trying to regulate the jitneys are these organizations or corporations that are running the street cars. They are the ones that are back of this. These jitney operators are making a living out of this and it is the street car corporations that want these bills. Now wait a minute,—if that bill goes through what is the result? These city councils can legislate automobiles off the street. Then they are asking to regulate them through the city and beyond the city. Now how can the city council regulate in the city and beyond the city? And it says that city councils shall regulate the streets they shall run on. Suppose they say this jitney service shall run exclusively on the streets where street cars are running. Now they take their passengers to their very doors, to their homes, and I say it is not fair that you should legislate them off the street. Let them have a fair chance. When you talk about the street car companies, if they kill people you are obliged to fight to the last ditch before they will pay damages for anybody they kill. I say this gentlemen; let the jitneys have a two year chance before you take the privileges away from them.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Dauphin tries to have you believe that the municipal traction companies favor this bill. I pledge you my word of honor that the traction companies are not in favor of this bill as it is drawn up at the present; they are opposed to it.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Nissley, is entirely out of order in his remarks with reference to this bill. This bill simply provides that the city government shall have the power to regulate the jitney busses just as they have power to regulate trolley service. Would you permit trolley service to operate in your city without giving the legal power to regulate them? If the city government shall have the power to regulate trolley companies why not have the same jurisdiction for the regulation of the jitney service. At present there is no power to regulate this service at all.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, we have jitney busses in the city where I live and they are talking about giving city councils power to regulate them. Our councils have already done that and have made rulings as to how these jitney busses should be operated, so far as safety is concerned, and any municipality has that right now. This bill here has a snake to it; it gives the city the right to state the rate to be charged and also what streets they shall run on. That is the danger in this bill. If it is only regulation that is wanted, that we have now. Gentlemen of the House, I think it would be a mistake to pass this bill. The trolley companies have had us by the throat for years in the matter of transportation. They charge outrageously for rides and no transfer. These jitneys give us some redress. I hope this bill will be voted down.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to reconsider the vote?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes had it.

Whereupon, a division was asked for, 88 gentlemen voting in the affirmative and 49 in the negative.

The motion to reconsider was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I want to add just one word to what has already been said: So far as this bill refers to the different cities it is asking only for power in cities of the third class as it is already exercised by cities of the first class. It simply extends the powers to cities of the lesser class to regulate these busses in the manner which is now the custom for operation in cities of the first class.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, the objections I have to this bill are not the provisions applying to municipalities of the first class; they have the right to regulate jitneys; they have that right now. In the city that I come from they have taken the advantage of that right and are now regulating them, but there is no such license to be given to any cities to regulate as this will do if it passes: The right to designate which streets these jitneys may run upon. The traction companies have arrogated to themselves all the best streets of the city for which it gives us not one penny but monopolizes streets and issues stocks to themselves in accordance with the wishes of the organization on the franchises they got from us for nothing. They have taken away the right of issuing strip tickets, let us hang on straps and have no consideration at all for the public.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is out of order for the reason that he is not discussing the question under consideration.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, your proposed law gives legislation which will restrict the jitney companies. I have no objection to trolley companies and I agree that the jitney business should be under regulation but in our city they have done so and there is no question that they will be able to regulate them properly. I hope this bill will be voted down.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to voice the expression of the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Maurer, inasmuch as the councils of our first class cities to-day regulate the cab service and the operation of jitney busses. I consider it superfluous.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 662.

The Clerk read the Report as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 662.

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and the House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 662, entitled "An Act to protect all persons in their equal rights regardless of race color or creed in places of public accommodation entertainment or amusement and providing penalty for violation of the same" respectfully submit the following amended bill as our report:

JAS. P. McNICHOL,
T. M. KURTZ,
Committee on the part of the Senate.

JOHN SWAN, JR.,
JOS. E. PHILLIPS,
Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.

An Act to protect all persons in their equal rights regardless of race color or creed in places of public accommodation entertainment or amusement and providing penalty for violation of the same

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all persons within the jurisdiction of this State shall be entitled to the full and equal accommodations advantages and privileges of any place of public accommodation entertainment or amusement subject only to the conditions and limitations established by law and applicable alike to all persons No person being the owner lessee proprietor manager superintendent agent or employe of any such place shall directly or indirectly refuse withhold from or deny to any person any of the accommodations advantages or privileges thereof or directly or indirectly publish circulate issue display post or mail any written or printed communication notice or advertisement to the effect that any of the accommodations advantages and privileges of any such place shall be refused withheld from or denied to any person on account of race creed or color or that the patronage or custom thereat of any person belonging to or purporting to be of any particular race creed or color is unwelcome objectionable or not acceptable desired or solicited

Section 4 Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of the foregoing sections may for each and every violation thereof be liable to a penalty of not more than fifty dollars and may also for every such violation be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof may be fined not more than fifty dollars

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker I move that the report of the Conference Committee on House Bill No. 662 be not adopted, and in making this motion, I want to explain to the gentlemen of the House, the reason. Through some unexplained oversight on the part of the printer the bill was put into such shape that it was practically useless, and I am directed to say by those who are most vitally interested in the matter that in its present form, they do not desire it. Therefore I ask the gentlemen of the House to agree with me in the motion to not adopt the report of the Committee.

Mr. GEARY. Mr. Speaker I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, and my honored colleagues, in asking the House to non-concur in the committee's report, I do so with my heart filled with just and grievious indignation at the manner in which this bill has been handled in this House. I am so full of feeling at the crime that has been perpetrated upon a helpless race, the perfidy that the Republican party has permitted in the name of parliamentary practice, that it would be best to curtail my remarks at this time, but I cannot permit this outrageous procedure to go unchallenged.

I again call your attention to the fact that the Republican party promised this bill in its Pittsburgh platform, that every Republican in the House has received the full, loyal support of the colored voter, that they are entitled to the passage of this act as a matter of simple justice, but how the party has deceived them. But forget not, my colleagues, history teaches that no person undertook to deceive a race without the wrath of a just Creator avenging the wrong.

I predict that the time will come when the Republican party and this House, and every gentleman who participated in this outrage will regret this deception.

An now, in leaving you, on this last day of our session, I do not wish to leave with any feeling of unfriendliness rankling in my bosom against any of you. With a feeling of charity I say unto you all, "Forgive them, father, they know not what they do."

I bid you farewell and trust you all may see the error of your way.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the Conference Committee Report adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it is a great pleasure to me at this time to thank the members of the House of Representatives and Senate and the officers of this administration on account of the adoption and the insertion in this General Appropriation Bill from lines 66 to 81 of provisions for the proper appropriation and the payment of the newspapers, which published the constitutional amendments in 1911, 1912 and 1913, in full and I am assured by the Auditor General that the Department will send out in as speedy a time as possible, to each paper whose bills was cut, the respective amounts due them. I am so happy at the closing hours of this session that I want to greet you and to thank all interested therein.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED RESOLUTION RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows, viz:

In the House of Representatives, April 28, 1915.

Whereas at number two hundred seventy-five of June term one thousand nine hundred ten the court of common pleas of Beaver county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania did on the suggestion of the Commonwealth at the relation of the then Attorney General Honorable M. Hampton Todd issue its writ of quo warranto directed to the late religious society known as the Harmony Society Susie C. Duss its last elected trustee John S. Duss de facto trustee and the said Susie C. Duss John S. Duss and Franz Gillman individually and did cause said writ to be served on the Beaver County Land Company the Liberty Land Company and the Commonwealth Trust Company of Pittsburgh trustee

And Whereas Answers have been filed by several of the said defendants and a replication has been filed by the Commwealth

And Whereas By the said pleadings it appears that it is alleged by the Commonwealth that the said Harmony Society was a religious society organized in the year one thousand eight hundred and five and which acquired property in Beaver county in the years one thousand eight hundred and twenty-four and one thousand eight hundred and twenty-five and at other times thereafter which property was held for religious uses and that said society at different times conveyed its real property to the Union Company the Beaver County Land Company and thousands of different persons and that said real property was situate not only in Beaver county but in Allegheny county Butler county and Warren county and other counties of this Commonwealth that the said The Union Company had conveyed some twenty-five hundred acres of land formerly occupied by said society to the Liberty Land Company in consideration of the delivery of twenty-five hundred Liberty Land Company's Purchase Money mortgage bonds of the par value of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) each that the said society had been dissolved and ceased to exist and that its assets had been in fact illegally distributed among the members of said society and others and that of right all the property of said society real or personal on its dissolution or ceasing to exist had vested in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

And Whereas It was alleged by certain of the defendants that said society was not a religious society but a trading or business association and did not hold any of its property real or personal for religious or charitable uses or purposes and that its members had at any time the right to dissolve the said society and divide its effects among themselves and that they had so done

And Whereas It appears that the pendency of the said litigation directly or indirectly affects or has a tendency to cast a cloud on many titles to real estate in Beaver county and other counties of this Commonwealth wherever said society at any time since one thousand eight hundred and five owned and conveyed real property and said litigation has tendency to embarass thousand of owners of small homes in mortgaging or conveying the same

And Whereas It appears that of the purchase money bonds of said Liberty Land Company issued as aforesaid only ten hundred and seventy-six (1076) remain outstanding the residue having been cancelled or retired and that of the said outstanding bonds one hundred and ninety-two (192) are owned by innocent third parties at no time members of said society and that except as to sixty-seven (67) of said bonds former members of said society have pledged all of said bonds owned by them to secure certain indebtedness of themselves or of said society aggregating two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000.00) dollars and that the interest coupons on said bonds have not been paid for the past six years

And Whereas It appears that the stock of said Beaver County Land Company is owned by former members of said society except as to some two (2) shares thereof and that said stock has been pledged to secure said indebtedness of two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000.00) dollars or a portion thereof and that said Beaver County Land Company is seized in fee as appears by the recorded instruments of about (5) acres more or less of land situate in the former village of Economy Pennsylvania now the Borough of Ambridge Beaver county Pennsylvania and also of certain scattered lots located in the City of Beaver Falls and the adjacent territory in Beaver county Pennsylvania the whole of which is real estate of said Beaver County Land Company and assessed in nineteen fifteen for the purpose of local taxation at an amount not exceeding ninety-seven thousand two hundred forty-four ($97,244.00) dollars and that said corporation owes debts exceeding one hundred seventy thousand ($170,000.00) dollars

And Whereas Counsel representing the Commonwealth and the defendants after many conference and consideration of the matter involved have agreed upon terms of settlement and compromise of said litigation in nowise prejudicing the positions assumed by the defendants in said pleading and not intended by them to recognize or admit any right of the Commonwealth but only to put an end to protracted litigation and quiet title to real and personal property wherever situate that was at any time held by or for said society By said agreement it is proposed to convey in fee simple absolutely to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania those two certain parcels of land both situate in the Fourth Ward of the Borough of Ambridge County of Beaver and Commonwealth aforesaid bounded and described as follows to wit

(1) All that certain parcel commonly known as the "Great House Block" bounded and described as follows to wit

Beginning at the northeast corner of the within-described parcel (said corner being a point formed by the intersection of the south line of Fourteenth Street with the west line of Church Street) thence along the west line of Church Street S. 0° 29′ East three hundred and ninety-seven hundreds (300.97) feet to a point at the corner of Church and Thirteenth Streets thence along the north line of Thirteenth Street S. 88° 54′ west three hundred ninety-eight and eighty-five hundredths (398.85) feet to a point at the corner of Thirteenth Street and Ohioview Avenue thence along the east line of Ohioview Avenue N. 0° 41′ 38″ W. three hundred one and ninety-three hundreds (301.93) feet to a point at the corner of Ohioview Avenue thence along the south line of Fourteenth Street N. 89° 02′ 30″ E. three hundred ninety-nine and ninety-six hundredths (399.96) feet to a point at the place of beginning

(2) All that certain parcel being part of the block commonly known as the "Music Hall" block bounded and described as follows to wit

Beginning at the southwest corner of said block being the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly line of Fourteenth street with the eastern line of Ohioview avenue thence by said northerly line of Fourteenth street N. 89° 02′ 30″ E. four hundred and eighteen hundredths (400.18) feet to a point at corner of Church and Fourteenth streets thence by Church street N. 0° 29″ West one hundred eighty-three and seventy-one hundredths (183.71) feet to a point thence S. 89° 06′ 30″ W. four hundred and eighty-eight hundredths (400.88) feet to a point on east line of Ohioview avenue and thence by Ohioview avenue S. 0° 41′ 38″ E. one hundred eighty-four and nineteen hundredths (184.19) feet to the place of beginning

And by said agreement is is further proposed to pay to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the sum of fifteen thousand ($15,000) dollars cash forthwith upon the conclusion of the proposed settlement and the entry of the judgment and the order or decree hereinafter mentioned and to pay the record costs of said proceeding

And Whereas In the opinion of the Attorney General the State Treasurer and of counsel for the Commonwealth in said litigation, it is for the best interests of the Commonwealth both in its corporate capacity and as custodian of the welfare of its citizens that said settlement should be made and that the title to all said real and personal property that was of said society should be quieted and settled insofar as relates to the said claim of the Commonwealth.

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Attorney General the Auditor General and the State Treasurer be and they are hereby authorized and empowered to make said settlement and compromise in the name and on behalf of the Commonwealth and to receive for the Commonwealth the deed for said described real property with the reservation of possession as aforesaid as to a portion thereof and to receive for the Commonwealth the said sum of money and thereupon there is hereby released to the said defendants or parties upon which said writ was served and to each and every of them their heirs grantees and assigns all the real and personal property that was of the Harmony Soicety at any time and not included in the property to be conveyed to the Commonwealth under the terms of such settlement and the said Attorney General Auditor General and State Treasurer are authorized to apply to the court of common pleas of Beaver county to have entered in said litigation such judgment order and decree as will effectually conclude all litigation and forever extinguish any and all title or claim which might or could be asserted by or through the Commonwealth except tax claims if any against all the property real or personal of said society held by the parties to said suit or serve with said writ or by any person holding through or under them or said society

Provided, however, that the settlement hereinabove approved shall not be an expression of legislative intention in any way binding upon the officers of the Commonwealth except as to indicate the minimum amount which in the judgment of the members of the General Assembly should be taken, accepted or received on behalf of the Commonwealth. The minimum amount believed to be substantially in total the equivalent of the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) in cash and

Provided further, That no settlement shall be agreed upon or become effective until the same has been approved by the Governor of the Commonwealth.

With information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

In line 182 after the word "authorize" insert the word "and;" and after the word "empowered" in the same line strike out the words "and directed."

At the end of said resolution add the following:

Provided, however, That the settlement hereinabove approved shall not be an expression of legislative intention in any way binding upon the officers of the Commonwealth except as to indicate the minimum amount which in the judgment of the Members of the General Assembly should be taken, accepted or received on behalf of the Commonwealth. The minimum amount believed to be substantially in total equivalent of the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) in cash and

Provided further, That no settlement shall be agreed upon or become effective until the same has been approved by the Governor of the Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the amendments are entirely satisfactory and I ask the House to concur in the same.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments?

They were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

House Bill No. 323.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act for the government of cities of the second class" approved the seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred and one (heretofore amended) by abolishing any distinction in assessment between land and the buildings thereon and by further regulating the duties of the assessor

With information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend title, by striking out entire title and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

To amend an act entitled "An Act for the government of cities of the second class" approved the seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred and one (heretofore amended) by abolishing any distinction in assessment between land and the buildings thereon and by further regulating the duties of the assessor

Amend section 1, by striking out from line 4 to line 29 inclusive and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Article six of an act entitled "An Act for the government of cities of the second class" approved the seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred and one which as amended by an act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled "An Act amending article six of an act entitled 'An Act for the government of cities of the second class' approved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one as amended by an amendatory act approved the first day of April Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine and as affected by an act entitled 'An Act providing a uniform rate of assessment and taxation for all real estate in cities of the second class' approved the eleventh day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven by providing for the classification of real estate for purposes of taxation into two classes to wit the buildings on land and the land exclusive of buildings and by providing for the assessment of a less tax upon the buildings than upon the land exclusive of the buildings in cities of the second class" reads as follows

"ARTICLE VI

Department of Assessors

This Department shall consist of no less than five (5) nor more than nine persons who shall have been residents of the city for at least ten years all of whom shall not be of the same political party The number of assessors in this Department shall be designated by ordinance and they shall from time to time make all valuations for purposes of municipal taxation

They shall classify all real estate in the city in such a manner and upon such testimony as may be adduced before them so as to distinguish between the buildings on land and the land exclusive of the buildings and to certify to the councils of said city the aggregate valuation of city property subject to taxation It shall be the duty of said councils in determining the rate for the years one thousand nine hundred and fourteen and one thousand nine hundred and fifteen to assess a tax upon the buildings equal to nine-tenths of the highest rate of tax required for said years and for the years one thousand nine hundred and sixteen one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and one thousand nine hundred and eighteen to assess a tax upon the buildings equal to eight-tenths of the highest rate of tax required to be assessed for those years and for the years one thousand nine hundred and nineteen one thousand nine hundred and twenty and one thousand nine hudred and twenty-one to assess a tax upon the buildings equal to seven-tenths of the highest rate of tax required to be assessed for those two years and for the years one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four to assess a tax upon buildings equal to six-tenths of the highest rate of tax required to be assessed for those years and for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five and for each year thereafter to assess a tax upon the buildings equal to five tenths of the highest rate of tax required to be assessed for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five and for each year thereafter respectively so that upon the said classes of real estate of said city there shall in any year be two rates of taxation

They shall triennially make a valuation for all purposes of municipal taxation and shall have the power to administer oaths They shall have the power to make a new assessment in any ward or wards they deem necessary in any subsequent year other than triennial years in the manner prescribed by law for the triennial assessment Any property owners shall have the right to be heard by the full board sitting as a board of revision on appeal from any valuation The assessment as aforesaid shall remain the lawful assessment for purposes of city taxation until the next assessment Nothing herein contained shall be construed to repeal the act of July nine one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven providing for the classification of real estate and other property for purposes of taxation and for the election of assessors and prescribing the duties thereof in cities of the second class except so far as the same may be inconsistent herewith

The councils shall by ordinance make all further needful rules and regulations for the government of this Department" is hereby amended to read as follows

ARTICLE VI

Department of Assessors

This Department shall consist of no less than five (5) nor more than nine persons who shall have been residents of the city for at least ten years all of whom shall not be of the same political party The number of assessors in this Department shall be designated by ordinance and they shall from time to time make all valuations for purposes of municipal taxation

They shall triennially make a valuation for all purposes of municipal taxation and shall have the power to administer oaths

All real estate now assessed and taxed in cities of the second class shall be assessed and taxed for all purposes of taxation at a uniform rate without discrimination or distinction of any kind between land and the buildings thereon and no classification of real estate for purposes of taxation shall hereafter be made

The department of assessors shall have power to make a new assessment in any ward or wards they may deem necessary in any subsequent year other than triennial years in the manner prescribed by law for the triennial assessment Any property owners shall have a right to be heard by the full board sitting as a board of revision on appeal from any valuation The assessment as aforesaid shall remain the lawful assessment for purposes of city taxation until the next assessment Nothing herein contained shall be construed to repeal the act of July nine one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven providing for the classification of real estate and other property for purposes of taxation and for the election of assessors and prescribing the duties thereof in cities of the second class except so far as the same is inconsistent herewith

The councils shall by ordinances make all further needful rules and regulations for the government of this Department

This amendment shall not affect the assessment or levy of taxes for the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, the amendments are entirely satisfactory to the sponser of the bill.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1643, Senate Bill No. 616, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation for the joint acquisition and maintenance by Pennsylvania and New Jersey of certain toll bridges over the Delaware River was dropped from the calendar be reconsidered.

Mr. BERNTHEIZEL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, this bill was dropped from the calendar several nights ago after a thorough discussion of it. It provides for the maintenance by an appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars for joint acquisition and maintenance by Pennsylvania and New Jersey for certain toll bridges over the Delaware River. This same kind of a bill was introduced in the Legislature of 1913 and the previous sessions and the appropriation depends entirely upon some action to be taken by the Legislature of the State of New Jersey. The State of New Jersey has taken no such action and this money has been set aside and could not be used for any other purpose. This year the New Jersey Legislature has already adjourned without taking any action on this proposition and if this motion is agreed to it would mean again the appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars of the State's money which would be set aside and could not be used for any other purpose and take away from the State Treasury that much money that we so much need for other purposes. I hope the members of the House will vote down this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to reconsider?

The motion was not agreed to.
